ROOSEVELT THINKS HE'LL CARRY OHIO; TAFT IS CONFIDENT

President Issues Statement Claiming He Has Enough Delegates to Win.

NEW LIGHT ON BROWNSVILLE

Colonel Quotes from Rival's Report Recommending Dismissal of Negro Soldiers.

PRIMARY BATTLE TOMORROW

Cleveland, O., May 19.—"I am entirely satisfied with the last week," said Col. Roosevelt in a statement today. "I believe the people of Ohio are sound and will place Ohio beside Pennsylvania and Illinois in this line-up of the people against the powers that prey."

Col. Roosevelt's statement was issued at Mentor, a suburb of Cleveland, where he spent the day with James R. Garfield, ex-secretary of the interior. In it he criticised President Taft sharply, saying the president had claimed credit for the mining bureau. Col. Roosevelt asserted that this bureau was established by Mr. Garfield, with the assistance of a commission of engineers.

"The commission rendered service of inestimable value," Col. Roosevelt continued, "and President Taft disbanded it under the dictation of Messrs. Cannon and Tawney, as he did the country life commission and various other commissions, yielding, as usual, to the bosses and heedless of the damage he did to the people. I had repeatedly recommended the bill, and it would never have been passed had we not actually established the bureau."

Explains Brownsville Affair.

Col. Roosevelt then took up the Brownsville affair.

"Mr. Taft states," the statement reads, "that he cabled me while I was in Panama asking that the order of dismissal be suspended, and that I cabled a response denying his request and directed that the order be immediately executed. This is correct as far as it goes, but what it conceals is far more interesting than what it reveals."

The ex-president asserted that Mr. Taft had urged the dismissal of the negro troops involved, but that after the departure of President Roosevelt for Panama there arose "a storm of protest against the order by the professional politicians."

"Mr. Taft," he continued, "promptly began to wobble, and to show urgent need that somebody should supply the strength and firmness of purpose which he lacked. He explained to me on various occasions that his request was due to his apprehension as to the political effect of the order."

Quotes from Taft's Report.

Col. Roosevelt then quoted from Mr. Taft's report, as secretary of war, on the Brownsville affair, recommending dismissal "of a band of would-be murderers."

This report, he said, was published sixteen days after Mr. Taft had sent the cable message. He said that if Mr. Taft stated what he believed, in making his report, he was "endeavoring to run away from the consequences of his action."

"If he did not state the truth," Col. Roosevelt continued, "if he yielded to me and at my dictation accused of the crime of murder men whom he believed to be innocent, then his conduct needs no comment."

Col. Roosevelt left tonight for Marietta. He and all the candidates will conclude the Ohio campaign tomorrow.

President Taft spent Sunday in Cincinnati. He will wind up the day tomorrow with a night speech at Dayton.

Taft Claims Enough Delegates.

In a statement issued at Cincinnati tonight President Taft said:

"On Thursday last I gave a statement to the press in which I said that with 520 Taft delegates then elected to the convention, and with the immediate prospect of the election of enough to exceed the necessary 540, the success of the cause of constitutional government seemed assured. The delegates elected since have confirmed this conclusion.

"Mr. Roosevelt's speech at Cleveland shows him in such a light that the certainty of his defeat for the Republican nomination must be a source of profound congratulation to all patriotic citizens who can now see the utter wreck that he would have made of the party if nominated, and the great danger to which the country would have been exposed had there been any chance of his election to a third term."

Ballots Large and Complicated.

The campaign managers of all candidates began a final effort to instruct the voters how to mark their ballots properly.

Both Republican and Democratic ballots are large and complicated. On the Republican ballot there will be three sets of candidates for delegates named in each of the twenty-one districts. These are pledged respectively to President Taft, Col. Roosevelt, and Senator La Follette. The names of the presidential candidates will not appear on the ballots. The six delegates at large will be named by the state convention here in June.

In addition to voting for delegates, the Democratic voter will have a special ballot on which the names of Govs. Harmon and Wilson will appear. The victorious candidate will name the six delegates at large.

The Socialists have a complete national and state ticket in the field and expect to poll a larger vote than at any previous primary.

The primary will close at 5:30 p. m., but on account of the complicated nature of the ballot it is expected that the returns will be slow in coming to the county boards of election.

ATCHAFALAYA LEVEE BREAKS; TOWN OF MELVILLE INUNDATED

Less than Half of 1,100 Residents in Town When Flood Starts—Government Boat to Rescue.

Baton Rouge, La., May 19.—The town of Melville, threatened since the present flood began, was inundated today when the levee on the west bank of the Atchafalaya river, sixteen miles north, broke at 8 o'clock this morning.

Less than half of the 1,100 residents remained, having left to avoid the long threatened submerging of their homes.

Capt. Logan, in charge of the federal rescue corps, today dispatched the steamship Minnetonka with a barge to Melville to bring away those who wished to leave, together with their household effects and live stock.

JILTED 'APPLE KING' COMMITS SUICIDE IN PALMER HOUSE

Henry Spruck von Armenthal Shoots Himself After Disposing of Vast Estates.

WOMAN MORRIS RELATIVE?

Mrs. Frances Rosenblatt Refuses to Marry Him After Romance in the West

HOLDS HER PICTURE IN HIS HAND

Henry Spruck von Armenthal, known as the "apple king of the west," committed suicide early yesterday morning in his room at the Palmer house by shooting himself through the temple. His death followed a stormy scene on Friday night with Mrs. Frances Rosenblatt, his fiancée, said to be a niece of the late Nelson Morris.

Spruck shot himself while in a fit of despondency because Mrs. Rosenblatt, after breaking their engagement, refused to see him and asserted she would not marry him. When the employés of the Palmer house found his body he was clutching in one hand a revolver and in the other a picture of Mrs. Rosenblatt.

Culmination of Love Affair.

The shooting was the tragic culmination of a love affair, which began a year and a half ago in California. Spruck's wife had died, and he went from his apple ranch in Wenatchee, Wash., to Los Angeles, to forget his trouble. About the same time Mrs. Rosenblatt's husband died, and she went to the same hotel, also in an effort to put grief behind. They became acquainted, and the romance began. The announcement of their engagement followed soon, together with the news that Spruck was to settle $50,000 on Mrs. Rosenblatt as a wedding gift.

The engagement was broken shortly over a week ago, according to friends. Employés of the Palmer house assert, however, that soon after the body was found a woman appeared asking for his papers and saying she was his wife. The Palmer house authorities told her they had been turned over to the police. Whether or not this was Mrs. Rosenblatt is not known.

Leaves Estate to German Baron.

Spruck, in a letter found in his room, gave the reasons for taking his own life, and asked that his real estate in the west be left to his brother, who is a baron in Germany. The letter follows:

"In a moment of despondency I take my own life. I love the finest woman in the world a man could ever wish for, yet while I know she loves me dearly she left me in disgust several days ago for parts unknown. The facts are that I am myself disgusted with myself—therefore the end.

"I send my latest will to my lawyers in Seattle this afternoon directing them that my older brother, Philip Spruck, Baron Solms Sanbach Armenthal of Hessen, Darmstadt, shall own or dispose of all my real property in the states of Washington, Oregon, and Idaho for his own personal benefit, with the exception of some property which I have especially mentioned to be made over to a poor but honest working boy of this city, who has done me within the last three days a great service.

Arranges Legal Details.

"All just bills must be given at the office of Walter D. Jones, 310 Reaper block. My lawyer from Seattle, whom I shall wire at this last moment, shall attend to all proper payments. Furthermore, I wish my body to be held in some undertaking establishment for at least four days, until his arrival, that he may direct the funeral and chose a cemetery."

Another thing, besides the refusal of his fiancée to see him, added to Spruck's despondency. It was a trial for disorderly conduct which was to have come up tomorrow. The story of the case was told by Mr. Jones, mentioned in the letter, an attorney who was a personal friend of Spruck. Attorney Jones made the identification of the woman to the police.

On Eve of Leaving City.

According to the attorney, Spruck had decided to leave Chicago for the west a week ago on Saturday. He had been residing for several months at the Drexel Arms hotel. His trunks were at the Union depot. This was after his quarrel with Mrs. Rosenblatt. She had returned a diamond engagement ring, which he had with him then.

Before taking his train he wanted to see her and try a last time for a reconciliation. He entered a taxicab. He drove to every place where he thought Mrs. Rosenblatt might be found. She had been living with her sister, Mrs. Jeanette Eachus, at the Bellvoir apartments, 1035 East Forty-seventh street. In order to avoid him she had left the apartment house.

Chauffeur Demands $60.

Spruck was unable to locate the woman, and he commenced drinking, stopping at numerous cafés and saloons. Finally the chauffeur took him to the Oxford hotel in Canal street, and demanded payment of $60 taxicab bill. Spruck found that $100 which he had had and the diamond engagement ring were gone. He had no money, and the chauffeur caused his arrest. He was taken to the Harrison street station. When he was released on bonds secured by Attorney Jones he registered at the Palmer house. He wrote west for money, as his account at the First National bank had run out. As far as is known, the money had not arrived at the time of his death.

During all last week Mrs. Rosenblatt hid from Spruck until Friday night, when Mr.

DAWSON '11—FORTUNE HUNTER.

[Copyright: 1912: By John T. McCutcheon.]

Dear Mother: I had dinner with "Scads" Allcott the other evening, and I'm afraid that Scads is away down on his luck. He was very blue, and very bitter against the luck he's been having. He says his father has refused to give him any more money, so I guess it's a pretty serious case. He was nervous and unstrung and was anxious to get out of town—to go some place where he could get a fresh start. "I'm going to cut out all the foolish business," he said, "and try to make something of myself. I've got to get away from the bunch I've been training with and make a fresh start. I want to rest up some place for a little while, for I'm all shot to pieces—then a clean slate and a new deal." I felt sorry for him. We had a long talk and when I suggested that he go down home, he said he'd never go home until he had made good. He'd be ashamed to show his face down there under the present circumstances. I let him have some money—enough to get him out west where he swore he'd make good on his own resources or starve. And I'm inclined to think that he will make good if he gets down to brass tacks. The trouble with Scads is that things came too easy for him and he never had to exert himself. He felt that whenever he wanted money his father would thaw out, so what was the use of working. I wished him good luck and he said he would drop me a line in a few days from out west. I haven't heard from him yet, so I guess he must have gone clear to the coast.

Please don't breathe a word of this to any one, especially about his condition or that I let him have any money. There's no use in making it any worse for him.

I'm planning to come down to commencement, so please invite one of your nicest fried chickens to assist on the reception committee. Things are fine up here and I'm getting along scrumptiously in my new work. At least nobody has kicked, so I hope all is well. Love to everything and everybody with an extra helping for you.

Your affectionate son, CHARLEY.

After Dawson had mailed this letter, he settled down in the comfortable clasp of the arms of a rocking chair and idly looked over the weekly paper from home. In this way he kept in touch with all the doings of his old neighbors. Among the personal items was one that galvanized him into rigid attention.

"Mr. Scadsworth Allcott of Chicago is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Allcott. 'Scads,' as his friends call him, is now a prosperous business man of the big city. He will remain here for some time to convalesce from a severe attack of the grip. The wiseacres attach a more sentimental significance to his visit."

When Dawson read this, he saw in his mind's eye the streets of his old town, the arches of green trees, the lilacs in bloom, and all the fresh loveliness of spring in the air. He was stricken with an indefinable attack of the "blues."

SCORNS ROAD LAW; KILLS A WOMAN

Norman Cruger Speeds on Wrong Side of Street; Tries to Escape.

POLICEMEN HALT PARTY.

An automobile, speeding on the wrong side of the street, struck and fatally injured Mrs. May Coles last Saturday night at West Chicago avenue and North Clark street. The machine passed over her body and dragged her fifteen feet. She was picked up and carried into the emergency hospital at the Chicago avenue police station, where she died five minutes later, without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Coles was 30 years old and lived at 676 La Salle avenue.

The automobile was driven by Norman Cruger, manager of the Wilson avenue garage at 4561 Kenmore avenue. Oscar Spaulding, 5022 North Paulina street; Mrs. W. P. Herrick, 1732 Carmen avenue, and W. E. McCormick, 4721 North Paulina street, were in the car with Cruger. Witnesses say Cruger made an effort to get away, but was stopped by Detectives Carney and Bolum of the Chicago avenue police station, who were near the scene of the accident. They shouted to the occupants of the automobile that they would shoot to kill if the machine was not stopped.

Auto Driver Admits Speeding.

Cruger admitted to the police that he was speeding and was on the wrong side of the street. He explained that he was trying to pass a street car. Spaulding, who is an official in the United States Baseball league, was to have taken a train for Cleveland. Cruger says he was speeding to reach the La Salle street station.

A few minutes before the accident Mrs. Coles had met her husband, Charles E. Coles. They started to cross to the east side of the street. A south bound street car was standing at the corner and they passed in front of it. Mrs. Coles was in advance. As she reached the east street car tracks she noticed a car coming from the south. She started to run.

Cruger was driving south in Clark street and turned to the east side of the street to pass the car standing at the corner. He had speeded up in order to escape the car coming north. Mrs. Coles stepped from in front of the approaching north bound car directly in the path of the automobile. She had no opportunity to escape after she saw the machine.

Driver Seeks to Escape.

Mrs. Coles was knocked down and the car passed over her, dragging her fifteen feet. When her clothing tore loose Cruger started to speed away, but was stopped near the next corner.

Coles ran to his wife and picked her up. She was unconscious. Her skull was fractured, right arm was broken, and she was injured internally. Her face and body were badly bruised.

The body was taken home. The inquest will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Coles was alone with the body yesterday afternoon in the room they had occupied. He moaned and paced the floor.

"A fine or imprisonment will not punish that driver," he said. "Why don't the police make him come to this room and look at what he has done? If they would only let me, I would make him come here, look at the body, make him help me dress her and place her in the coffin. He would never be able to rid himself of the mental picture, and his punishment would be complete."

Cruger is being held at the Chicago avenue police station.

Two Hurt in Auto Crash.

Two men were hurt and two others had narrow escapes in a collision between two automobiles at Lincoln parkway and East Ontario street early yesterday morning.

Those hurt were Harry Siebert, 24 West Twenty-second street, and Isaac Silverman, owner of a cigar store at 816 West Madison street. They were taken to the Passavant hospital by the Chicago avenue police. Siebert suffered injury to his left hip and Silverman's left arm was badly lacerated.

Nichalos Dandolas, 24 West Twenty-second street, and Bernard Noake, a chauffeur for the Santo Cino Motor Car company, 2007 South Michigan avenue, narrowly escaped injury in the crash.

Seattle, Wash., May 19.—Two persons are known to have been drowned and forty or more were injured today, when the adjustable end of a temporary passenger gangplank at the Colman dock dropped, precipitating sixty passengers into the water as they were preparing to board the Puget sound steamer Flyer for Tacoma.

CHERBOURG, May 19.—A wireless message received from the steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie announced it will arrive at this port late. The steamer has been considerably delayed by stopping to pick up survivors of a wrecked ship, the name of which is not known.

COW EATS "FRAT" GROCERIES.

Chinese Chef, Frightened by Strange "Moo," Flees and Crawls Under Football Captain's Bed.

When Ching Hi Lo, chef for the Sigma Chi fraternity house at Evanston, ambled sleepily into his kitchen yesterday morning he walked full into a cow, munching contentedly on groceries delivered the night before.

Ching seized the visitor by the tail and tried to drag her away. The cow "moo-ed." Ching had never heard that noice before, and did not stop running until, with teeth chattering, he crawled under the bed of Ernest Reese, last season's Northwestern football captain.

With the whole fraternity and part of the police force cooperating, the cow was dragged out of the house.

FIREMEN BEAT FAKE ALARMIST.

Fire Fighters Answer Call and Punch Man They Find Held by Police.

Firemen from engine companies 42 and 11, who had hurried to Rush and Illinois streets late Saturday night, only to find two policemen holding a man they said had turned in a false alarm, seized the prisoner and bestowed on him all the energy they had saved for fighting the fire. He gave his name as Thomas Roach and denied that he had turned in the alarm. He was turned back to the police with several cuts and bruises.

LOOTS HOUSE AS CARDS ARE PLAYED

Burglar, Using Ladder, Climbs in A. L. Tetze Flat; Gets $3,000 in Jewelry.

LIGHT WAKES NURSE.

Ransacking a house and taking $3,000 worth of jewelry while all members of the household, excepting a 7 year old daughter, were wide awake was the clever work of a shrewd burglar at the Alexander L. Tetze residence, 5828 Kenmore avenue, Saturday night.

The theft created a furore in north shore society circles. Evidently the burglar knew his ground, for he succeeded in engineering the robbery while Mr. and Mrs. Tetze and friends were playing cards in a room adjoining that where the valuables were kept.

The burglary occurred at 10 o'clock at night, at a time when all lights were lit and everybody in the house astir.

Sight Fleeing Burglar.

Tetze is president of the Plamondon & Tetze company, with offices at 40 South Clinton street. With the exception of a gold watch, all the jewels belong to his wife.

The burglar was seen as he fled into an alley, but had vanished from the neighborhood by the time a patrol wagon filled with policemen arrived from the Summerdale station.

List of Articles Stolen.

Here is a list of the articles stolen:

Three diamond rings.
Diamond solitaire ring.
Cameo ring.
Gold watch and chain.
Carved purse.
Gold mesh bag.
Diamond cross breastpin valued at $1,000.
Rings and breastpins valued at $1,160.

Mr. and Mrs. Tetze and Mr. and Mrs. E. Strom, who occupy apartments in the same flat, were playing cards in the dining room, and Ella Quinlan and Tetze's 7 year old daughter were asleep in the nursery on the first floor during the execution of the burglary.

Puts Ladder to Window.

The burglar took a ladder from the rear porch and carried it into an areaway, from which he forced open a window in the nursery. He crawled in through the window without arousing the nurse or the child and made his way through a hall into the sleeping apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Tetze, off the parlor, without being heard by those at the card table.

Gathering up the jewelry from a dresser in the room he returned to the nursery. As he entered the room he took out a flashlight to find his way out. The strong light struck the face of Miss Quinlan, the nurse, and she awoke to find the intruder crawling out of the window.

Nurse Screams an Alarm.

Miss Quinlan screamed and Mr. and Mrs. Tetze and Mr. and Mrs. Strom rushed into the nursery. By this time the burglar had dropped into the passageway between the buildings. Tetze reached the rear porch in time to see the man fleeing into the alley.

A hurried search of their apartments disclosed to Mr. Tetze that nearly all of her jewelry and her husband's watch and chain had been taken, and Tetze then telephoned the Summerdale police. Detectives searched the neighborhood until an early hour Sunday morning, but no trace of the thief was found.

WOMAN SLAIN IN BUNGALOW KNOWN AS DILLON'S WIFE

Neighbors Who Knew Couple in Chicago Identify Photograph of Victim.

POSTAL STRENGTHENS CLEW

Card Found With Body Signed "C. C. Dillon," Name of Man Killed by Train.

POLICE THINK HE ENDED HIS LIFE

The half dozen Chicago detectives who have been trying for the last ten days to solve the murder of the woman found dead in a Los Angeles bungalow, were convinced for twelve hours yesterday that the victim was Mrs. Bessie Howard of Norfolk, Va., known in Chicago as Mrs. Bessie Jones.

But late in the afternoon word came from the police of Norfolk, Va., that Mrs. Bessie Howard, alias Mrs. Bessie Jones, alias Mrs. Bessie Vogler, a notorious character in sailors' resorts, was still alive. They concluded that either they had been following a false trail or that the woman known as Mrs. Bessie Jones in Chicago must be some other than the woman of the many names whom the Norfolk police found.

Before the news came from Norfolk the police believed they had unraveled the puzzle. They still think the woman who died in Los Angeles lived with Caiphias Dillon in Chicago and that he was the man who killed her.

Neighbors Identify Victim's Photo.

Women who knew Dillon as Jack Jones when he lived at 4621 Evanston avenue had no doubt that the photograph of the Los Angeles victim was the photograph of the woman whom Jack Jones introduced as Mrs. Bessie Jones.

Mrs. Emma McCue, who rented the couple a room, said that Mrs. Bessie Jones left Chicago for Norfolk, Va., shortly before June 1, 1911. She knew that Mrs. Jones reached Norfolk because she afterward received letters from her bearing the Norfolk postmark. Mrs. McCue was sure the photograph of the murdered woman which Detective Lawrence Howe showed her was that of Mrs. Jones. Miss Julia Nebar, a waitress at Avery's restaurant, 4641 Evanston avenue, said she knew Mrs. Bessie Jones well, and that the photograph was one of her. Miss Nebar said she had received several letters from Mrs. Jones postmarked Norfolk, and had even sent her letters at the address she gave, 515 Berkeley avenue. But Miss Nebar has heard nothing from Mrs. Bessie Jones for the last six weeks.

Wife Talks of Woman.

Mrs. Dillon, the wife of Caiphias Dillon and the mother of his four children, told James Markham, chief clerk of the detective bureau, yesterday that she knew nothing of a Bessie Jones, but that a Bessie Howard of Norfolk, Va., had lived with her and her husband in Detroit, Mich., and that she had always thought the woman had followed her husband to Chicago when he came here nearly two years ago.

The first reply that Acting Capt. Gleason of the detective bureau received to his query of the Norfolk police said that Mrs. Bessie Jones was living at 214 Stratford street, Norfolk, but that she had lived at 515 Berkeley avenue. An answer to another query said that Mrs. Bessie Howard had once been a notorious character of Norfolk resorts, but that she had disappeared after avowing her intention to go to Chicago some two or three years ago. Finally the Norfolk police wired that they had found Mrs. Bessie Jones and Mrs. Bessie Howard were the same person.

Think Train Victim Was Slayer.

The only hope the police now have that they have discovered the name of the murdered woman is that the information that Mrs. Bessie Howard had gone to Chicago is correct and that the woman who calls herself Howard, Jones, or Vogler with equal facility, but who clings to the given name of Bessie, is another woman.

The attempt to establish the identity of the woman who is dead has so far only served to strengthen the conviction of the police that Caiphias Dillon was the man who committed the murder. Their chain of evidence against him is now so strong that they think there is no question but he would confess if he were alive.

"When Dillon's body was found beside the railway tracks there was only an envelope in his pocket by which to identify him," Chief Clerk Markham said, "but that envelope told a lot. It was stamped ready for mailing and addressed to Dillon's brother-in-law, David Churchill, 4114 Sheridan road. Inside it was a blank sheet of paper. But that blank sheet tells more to the man who studies the circumstances under which it was found than a written confession.

Think Dillon Ended Life.

"It tells this: Caiphias Dillon was in a mood to commit suicide. He decided to write a last letter to his brother-in-law confessing that he couldn't stand it any longer. When he found himself beside the railway tracks in Wilmette late at night his nerve gave way. He heard a train whistle and laid his head down on the rail."

The hunt which moved so slowly for the police until it leaped forward with the news that a C. C. Dillon who answered the description of the C. Dillon sought as the murderer had been killed by a train was based on the slightest of clews. There were two bloody handkerchiefs in the room of the bungalow where the woman was found perhaps twelve hours, perhaps two days, after her death. There was a straw hat with a split guinea feather as ornament. There was the badge of a Catholic society—the Children of Mary, Holy Name, Chicago. Finally there was a portion of the dead woman's blue serge suit, which bore the label of Marshall Field & Co., Chicago.

The Chicago police were asked to find out what members of the Holy Name's Children of Mary were unaccounted for, especially such as might have the initial "K." The "K" was embroidered on one of the handkerchiefs. Later they were asked to find out whose was the laundry mark "C D X," "X e X," found on the handkerchiefs. The police worked on these slender clews for days. Every young woman for whom the Children of Mary society could not account offhand was found. Every laundry in Chicago was asked to find the person to whom the laundry marks referred, without result.

Meanwhile the Los Angeles papers printed a photograph of the straw hat with the guinea feather. A day later a Miss Gloria Baldwin called on the police.

"I trimmed that hat with that split guinea feather," she said.

"But the hat band has the name of a Chicago firm," she was told.

"I know it has—the name of the firm which made the frame. I can show you where the woman lived. I sold the hat to her on April 29."

Learn Where Dillons Roomed.

The police accompanied her to a house in Hope street, Los Angeles, which had been occupied by a Mr. and Mrs. Thompson until a few days before. They had had roomers, but they had gone to Washington, D. C. Chief Sebastian of Los Angeles wired Chief Sylvester of Washington asking him to interview the Thompsons and furnishing them with a description of the woman who was dead.

Chief Sylvester replied that a Mr. and Mrs. C. Dillon had boarded at their house in Los Angeles, that the description of the murdered woman was a description of Mrs. Dillon, and that the couple had quarreled frequently during the ten days they had kept their room.

Chief Sebastian was able to send Chicago a complete description of C. Dillon when he heard from Chief Sylvester. Along with it he sent a more complete description of the dead woman. It contained an item that had been neglected. The murdered woman was about to become a mother.

Claimed Interneship in Evanston.

A day later came word that C. Dillon had tried to obtain work in Los Angeles as a hospital nurse. He had given Dr. C. D. Brumback, 819 Masonic temple, as a reference, and declared he had had experience as a nurse at St. Francis hospital in Evanston. He had represented also that he had been an interne and that his wife was a trained nurse.

The police here began a search of the hospitals. Chief Clerk Markham sent a circular letter containing complete descriptions and all the information that he had obtained of C. Dillon and wife to the hospitals of Chicago. They could not find a Dr. Brumback at the address Dillon had given, but they found a physician of the name who never had heard of him. They searched registers of nurses and internes for some record of Dillon. They found nothing.

Learn of Dillon's Birthplace.

Then the police learned that Dillon had said he was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., and had spent some time in Sault Ste. Marie and Detroit. Descriptions were sent to all these towns by wire. But nothing was learned.

Then, when every possible clew seemed to lead nowhere, a man was killed in Wilmette. The police report said his name was C. Dillian and gave a rough description of him: a man 35 or 40 years old, fairly well dressed, five feet eight or nine inches tall, and weighing 185 pounds. There was little in the report to justify the feeling that this was the C. Dillon of Los Angeles. But Markham and O'Donnell and McFarland of the bureau felt it. Out in the neighborhood of St. Francis hospital was a dead man whose name suggested the name of the man they wanted so much to find and whose description suggested him still home. They didn't wait. But when they got to Wilmette the inquest was over, the jury had returned an open verdict, and the case was apparently closed.

Former Employer Gives Clew.

O'Donnell wanted to know where this Dillian worked. They told him that the name really was Dillon and that he worked for an electrical contractor in Evanston. O'Donnell and McFarland insisted on seeing the body. When their inspection was over they were beginning to think the similarity was beyond coincidence. They sought C. H. Adams, Dillian's, now Dillon's, employer.

Mr. Adams thought Dillon lived at Wilson and Evanston avenues. McFarland and O'Donnell had been told he lived much farther north in Evanston avenue. They had one more question to ask. Had Dillon been away from work for any length of time? He had. He had been in California for six weeks.

That was nearly conclusive to McFarland and O'Donnell. They sent at once to the two addresses at which Dillon was reported to have lived. They learned he had a wife and four children at 5420 Evanston avenue, but that he had lived for nearly a year at 4621 Evanston avenue as Jack Jones with another woman. Then they saw the whole story.

Draw Story from Clews.

Dillon had lived a dual life. He never had supported his wife and children when it suited his convenience not to. He had always earned good wages at his trade of electrician—at least $5 a day. He didn't like the responsibility of four children, so he had chosen to live with a woman who had no children. But in time she became too much of a responsibility. She was about to become a mother. He wanted to be rid of her.

He went out west. She followed him. He lived with her for a week or two, perhaps longer, quarreling with her because she was about to add to his responsibilities. He could not convince her that she ought to take herself off. And finally he struck her with a bottle in the empty bungalow in Los Angeles. Then he completed the murder. He tried to burn the house down about her, but failed. He took a train for Chicago and went back to his wife and children. But he couldn't keep his secret. His leather traveling bag had dark red stains inside it. He had always taken the easiest way. He decided to commit suicide.

VETO MAY HALT FIGHT ON I. C. DEAL

Littler to Stop Efforts, if Mayor Tries "to Run Council by Minority Vote."

ENEMIES STILL ACTIVE.

Rosenthal Asserts Citizens' Committee Will Resist Approval by Court.

If Mayor Harrison decides to veto the Littler resolution, instructing the corporation counsel to oppose by all lawful means the contract between the south park commissioners and the Illinois Central railway company whereby a new site may be found for the Field museum, the measure will be lost, according to Ald. Littler. He said yesterday he might not even attempt to have the order passed at the council meeting tonight over the mayor's veto, as he saw little or no hope of securing a two-thirds vote.

"I probably shall veto the resolution," said Mayor Harrison at night. "I will not say so positively at this time, as I have not studied it over thoroughly enough."

Think Mayor Does Wrong.

"If the mayor wants to run the council by minority vote, I can do nothing further," said Ald. Littler. "I think the mayor is taking an undue position in the matter of the resolution. The resolution was passed by a vote of 33 to 28.

"A veto of the resolution means the city will give some 140 acres of land to the Illinois Central as well as valuable riparian rights. The project of extending Indiana avenue to Twelfth street will be lost. The location of the Field museum may be an important matter, but not so all important as to be purchased at the exorbitant price which the city will have to pay in case the contract between the south park commissioners and the Illinois Central goes through. The city has a right to protest and it should."

Lessing Rosenthal in Statement.

Lessing Rosenthal of the citizens' committee in the evening issued a statement as follows:

"According to this morning's TRIBUNE, the mayor intends to veto the Littler order passed last Monday directing the corporation counsel to oppose and prevent by all lawful means the confirmation of the contract between the south park commissioners and the Illinois Central railroad. The mayor is said openly to favor the substitute resolution proposed by Ald. Cermak, merely directing the corporation counsel to intervene in the proceedings and use his judgment. This would be wholly ineffectual for two reasons; first, because only a voter or taxpayer of the district has, under the act of 1907, the power to intervene; secondly, because the mayor is a pronounced advocate of the proposed contract and under the Cermak resolution the corporation counsel would take orders from the mayor instead of the city council, the body assumed to dictate the municipal policy of Chicago.

"The vote last Monday on the motion to table the Cermak order was significant. Every one of those aldermen present who has heretofore been openly condemned and denounced voted against the motion to table, and thus indirectly against the Littler resolution. Kenna, Coughlin, Kearney, Martin, Cullerton, Powers, and McInerney all voted for the Cermak resolution. There were no such votes on the other side. This is significant.

Says Grant Would Be Record.

"If the Illinois Central contract is confirmed that railroad secures a bigger grant than any railroad entering Chicago ever received. The people fail to realize that it means for that road practically a duplication of its present right of way. Value the present right of way of the Illinois Central from Twelfth street to Fifty-first and you get some idea of the immense value of the grant. Even on the basis of the figures submitted by the park board, the excess of value in favor of the Illinois Central is $6,850,000. Valued for railroad uses it would be around $35,000,000.

"But this is not the worst of the matter. The 700 foot right of way, as big as the distance from Madison to Randolph street, would be a perpetual menace and injury to neighboring property and the park. No adequate depression of tracks, no adequate restriction of use, no electrification are provided for. And, worst of all, the provisions in the contract ostensibly in favor of the public are futile for lack of power in the park commissioners to make them. The city council, and not the park commissioners, are invested with power to change the grade of railroads, to construct viaducts, to declare what shall be a nuisance, to restrict the mode of use of railroad property.

"The park commissioners have usurped the powers of law expressly vested in the city council. Whatever provisions of that nature there are in the contract could, therefore, not be enforced. For that and other reasons our committee will oppose the confirmation of the contract by the court tomorrow."

It is possible the ordinance giving the Chicago City railway company a franchise for building a loop at Halsted and Seventy-ninth streets may be presented to the council tonight. This bill has been reported favorably by the local transportation committee.

MRS MAY COLES

GIRL, CHIDED FOR BEING SINGLE, BRIDE FOR MORE THAN 6 MONTHS

Stenographer at Chicago Automobile Club Only Laughed When Asked Why She Didn't Marry.

Members of the Chicago Automobile club who have wondered why Miss Flossie Dedlow, stenographer at the club, laughed when asked why she remains single, have found out. It appears she has been married for more than six months.

Miss Dedlow lives in Elgin. For the last two months she has been living with Mrs. Joseph Anderson, 419 Russell street, where there are two sons, Harold and Louis, where employed by the Elgin Watch company. Ten days ago Louis eloped with a girl he had known about a year, and since then has chaffed his brother and the stenographer, inquiring why they did not follow his example.

Harold Anderson left the house on Saturday, saying he might not be back for dinner. A little later Miss Dedlow sauntered out saying she thought she would take a walk. Neither appeared during the day. In the evening there came a letter from Chicago saying they had been married in Kenosha, Nov. 11, 1911, and were just starting their honeymoon. Then Louis understood. The romance started at a band concert in the Elgin square three years ago.

RICHESON CALM AS DEATH NEARS

Preacher Slayer of Avis Linnell Resigned to His Fate in Boston Prison.

WILL DIE IN FEW HOURS.

Does Not Want to Sleep Because Rest of Life Is So Short.

Boston, Mass., May 19.—"I have made my peace with God; I am resigned to my fate. I wish now to go to my death as soon as possible; the quicker the better."

These words spoken by Clarence V. T. Richeson, former Baptist minister and slayer of Avis Linnell, to the Rev. Herbert H. Johnson, his spiritual adviser, today, expressed the mental condition of the condemned man, who there is reason to believe will go to his death in the electric chair shortly after midnight Monday night.

Does Not Want to Sleep.

Richeson talked long and earnestly with Mr. Johnson and the prison chaplain.

"I do not want to sleep," he said. "I have so little time to live and so much I want to say that I must talk, talk."

Part of the conversation was of meditative and religious nature, and part reminiscent. The prisoner reviewed incidents of his boyhood in Virginia, and his college days at Liberty, Mo., furnished further topics.

Seven to See Execution.

Three physicians, the prison doctor, the county medical examiner, and the surgeon general of the commonwealth will attend the execution as legal witnesses. The prison chaplain also is entitled to attend.

Gov. Foss probably will name as the three other witnesses representatives of three press associations.

MURDER OF DR. HELEN KNABE CONFESSED BY ANOTHER MAN.

Prisoner at Pine Bluff, Ark., Says He Slew Physician in Quarrel Over Money Investment.

Pine Bluffs, Ark., May 19.—[Special.]—J. E. Guthrie, a Canadian, accused of forgery, voluntarily confessed in jail here tonight that he killed Dr. Helen Knabe, who was mysteriously murdered in her fashionable apartments in Indianapolis some months ago.

According to his story, he inherited $18,000 from his father's estate and was induced to invest the whole amount in a hospital or sanitarium which was planned by Dr. Knabe, who promised to cure him of the use of morphine.

He called at her apartments, he says, and when she failed to give him a satisfactory accounting of the money he fired two shots at her, the first going wide of its mark and the second entering her neck. He said he was under the influence of drugs at the time, and he cannot recall all of the incidents preceding or following the tragedy.

It was the last sermon before Dr. Hirsch's vacation. He will remain in Europe for three months.

Tells of Meeting Woman.

"While they were together Spruck made every effort toward a reconciliation," said Attorney Jones, "but Mrs. Rosenblatt would not listen to it. He had been drinking, and she asserted that it was for that reason she would not marry him.

"'I am going to sue you for breach of promise,' she told him. Spruck told her that he would marry her. 'Unless you give me $15,000 I shall sue you,' she repeated," continued the attorney.

"Spruck replied: 'You might coax me to give you money, dear, but you can never force me to give it.' Then he told her that if she did not consent to marry him he would blow out his brains.

"We all thought it was merely a threat, but that is the last any of us saw of him alive. Mrs. Rosenbaltt got a letter from him late Saturday in which he told her that he was about to commit suicide.

Were to Wed in June.

"I feel sure she would not have broken the engagement if it had not been for his drinking. They were together continuously until the engagement was called off. The date of the wedding was set for June. I have notified Mr. Spruck's attorneys in Seattle that we are holding the body, and I expect to get instructions from them tomorrow."

Mrs. Rosenblatt could not be found during the day. None of her friends knew where she was, they said. Her sister asserted she did not know where Mrs. Rosenblatt could be found.

Spruck came to America when a young man. He is said to have left Germany because of family trouble. His interests in apple lands in the west are extensive, and his income from his ranches is said to exceed $1,000 a month.

The body was removed to the rooms of the Eastern Casket company, 58 East Randolph street, where an inquest will be held this afternoon. Dr. John Steele Sweeney, house physician at the Palmer house, examined the body as soon as it was found in the morning. He said Spruck had been dead for some time. No one in the hotel heard the shot.

Mrs. Rosenblatt's husband was the late Benjamin Rosenblatt, a wealthy leather manufacturer of New York. She has several brothers identified with Chicago business enterprises.

ARCHBALD CASE UP AGAIN TODAY

House Committee Asks for Letter Written by Judge to Attorney Bruce.

LIGHT WANTED ON DEALS

Jurist's Friends Contend There Is No Proof That Negotiations Benefited Him.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—The house judiciary committee tomorrow will resume the investigation of the relations of Judge Archbald of the Commerce court with the railroads which were parties to litigation before that tribunal.

Attorney Helm Bruce of the Louisville and Nashville railroad will be summoned to produce the letter which Judge Archbald wrote to him after the conclusion of the hearings before the returning of the decision in that case. That was the suit in which the Commerce court reversed the interstate commerce commission's finding in favor of complaining shippers and granted an injunction to the railroad.

Opinions Given by Archbald.

The opinion was delivered by Judge Archbald after he had corresponded with Attorney Bruce upon the interpretation of testimony given by Traffic Manager Compton for the railroad.

The committee also will hear further testimony in regard to the $30,000 culm bank deal which the judge negotiated with the Erie railroad and with the Laurel Line, and in regard to the proposed sale of the Marion Coal company to the Lackawanna, for which it is alleged, Judge Archbald was to have received a $15,000 commission.

That Judge Archbald had business negotiations with common carriers, some of which were parties to suits in his court, appears to be admitted by counsel for the judge.

May Have Been Indiscreet.

The principal contention of the friends of the jurist is that no proof has been forthcoming that he profited financially from any of these business deals. It is urged that the judge may have been "indiscreet," but nothing more.

CHICAGO PULPITS PROCLAIM PEACE

Pastors Plead for Termination of the Possibility of War.

WOMEN JOIN IN APPEAL.

"Prepare for War in Time of Peace," Argument Ridiculed in Talks.

Chicago celebrated "Peace Sunday" yesterday when from practically every pulpit in the city a plea for worldwide peace and arbitration instead of war was made. Pastors of all denominations united in answer to the request of the Chicago Peace society to devote their sermons to the subject of peace.

Numerous special meetings were held throughout the city at which societies and civic organizations discussed the topic from different angles.

Views of Dr. Gunsaulus.

In the morning Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus spoke on "Peace" at the Auditorium.

"It is God's judgment that counts in history," he said, "and his alone. The heaviest battalions have lost finally, proving that a misstatement of Frederick the Great when he said 'God is on the side of the heaviest artillery.'

"God forgive us if we have depended upon contention alone for the solution of life's great problems, and been in the mood for fight instead of reconciliation.

"Put Thy Sword Into Its Sheath," Christ's words to that great hearted, hasty belligerent Peter, so ardent and so mistaken, was the last.

"War stands today, a ragged, bloody, terrible monster, on trial, judged and condemned. War is no longer romantic, no longer dependent on chivalry, but on military machinery and tactics. The military profession has lost so effectively there is no glory in the battle. There never was such an insanity abroad as that 'in times of peace prepare for war.'

Quotes Words of Grant.

"Through war came peace, and after battle Grant said, 'Let us have peace.' Sherman said, 'I am sick of war; war is hell!'

"Did England receive an impetus toward manhood out of her South African war? The great manhood of the future will win the victories of peace; the new chivalry will take hold of the 'two millions of our people unable to read and write, not put ten millions of dollars into a battleship.'

"There is a most sinister aspect back of the talk of war. There might be an excuse for selfishness in business, but did you ever hear of a blessing following war and the consequential results of war? It's hard to have anything worse. When I hear you wishing for war, my friend, I am led to look behind the wish for certain private interests. How much powder have you to sell? How much provisions? How much steel? Would you fill your pockets through such a disaster? We need a triumph of ideas, a triumph of peace, a court or arbitration with absolute power to decide."

West Side Holds Meeting.

A union meeting of west side churches was held in the afternoon at the Church of the Redeemer, Warren avenue and Robey street, at which Dr. Ozora S. Davis spoke of "Elihu Burritt, Apostle of International Peace and Brotherhood," and Dr. Anna E. Blount spoke on "Why Women Will Vote for Peace."

In his address Dr. Davis said:

"Every schoolboy in New England a generation ago knew the name of Elihu Burritt, the 'learned blacksmith,' who had mastered a score of languages while working at the forge. It has remained for the present generation to discover that the reason for this study while the iron was heating was in order to enter into the great program of human brotherhood which was the passion of Elihu Burritt's life.

"Not long ago representatives of the nations came to the city of New Britain in Connecticut to honor this prophet of universal peace. They said nothing about his gifts as a linguist. They bore testimony to the pioneer and heroic work which he had done in the cause of human brotherhood.

"Elihu Burritt's whole life swings into harmony when the guiding principle of it is understood. He wrote a lecture on a scientific subject in 1843, and before it was concluded he had grasped the ideal of the unity of all mankind on God's earth. The result of that ideal was his program for freedom from slavery, for cheap ocean postage, for the peace of nations, for the promotion of education, and the emancipation of the mind of man from ignorance and of the heart of man from hatred.

Organizer of Peace Shown.

"Therefore he became the great organizer of the peace congresses that were held in Europe from 1848 onward. These were the precursors of the greater peace congresses and finally of The Hague. To this quiet and patient American the world owes a debt for this service that it never can repay. The idea of a permanent international tribunal is American, not Russian.

"He worked for cheap ocean postage in order that the immigrants from Europe might come into communication with their kindred and not suffer the hardship of expensive postage. Not a letter crosses the ocean today from an immigrant to the old home which is not indebted to the early work of Elihu Burritt.

"His greatest work, however, was his ceaseless agitation and dauntless faith in the cause of international peace."

Calls War Unnecessary.

"War is unchristian and unnecessary," said President John S. Nollen of Lake Forest college in a "Peace" address at the Central Y. M. C. A. "The idea of 'armed peace' is destructive, selfish, unmoral, and unchristian. Armed peace is brought about by the fear of one nation of another and but breeds fear. It is so expensive that nations are forced to the verge of national ruin attempting to be prepared for the attacks of some other nation.

"Individuals have long since come to the conclusion that arbitration is the proper method of ending differences, and it is time that this idea is communicated from the individual to the nation. The remedies for the war spirit are plain and are at the beck and call of every Christian of this and other lands. First comes education of the people of the needlessness of war from the pulpits, then the creation of an atmosphere of peace by education and constant agitation. The spirit of Christianity will soon conquer the spirit of Mars."

Second Mile of Diplomacy.

Dr. John Balcom Shaw of the Second Presbyterian church took as his subject "The Second Mile," and applied the principle of nonresistance as taught by Jesus to the relationship of nations.

"International peace," he asserted, "is the second mile of diplomacy. Call it what you may, it is the spirit of Jesus introduced into world affairs, and unless we are willing to go the second mile we are not in reality a Christian nation, but belong with the barbaric peoples of the globe. That heathen countries should go to war with each other is not strange, but the last course for a Christian nation to take is to take up arms and attempt to settle disputes by bloodshed and death. When it does so it proves unworthy of its name and lineage.

"In such a case there is but one thing for its citizens who are Christians to do—to protest as loudly and as effectively as they can and withdraw their support from the party or political leaders whose influences are for war. International peace could be brought about in a day if Christian churches in America and England would use their influences and demand it, refusing to indorse any platform and to vote for any candidate not openly committed to the pursuit of peace."

Miss Addams Espouses Cause.

Miss Jane Addams spoke before the Sunday Evening club on "Newer Aspects of the Peace Movement."

"The movement for world peace has assumed a significance and practical basis in the affairs of life hitherto unknown," she said. "At last we have gathered the data on the causes underlying war, tabulated its biological, economic, and general social wastage. From this we have evolved a new program which we hope will facilitate our efforts towards a permanent world peace.

"Emphasis was once placed largely upon the folly of casting our wealth into the sea. It was felt that the disaster of war was solely an economic matter, and that should be the chief reason for its retirement from the affairs of nations. But since we have the biological interpretation of war, we have come to see that it is the worst possible thing which can happen to the race, because it drains off the best stock.

"Prof. David Starr Jordan, president of the Leland Stanford university, has shown this to be true. And if this is true, it should cause the nations to hesitate before they deliberately pursue a course of race suicide through war.

"One of the most potent factors in changing the angle of our movement against war has been the recent marvelous development of aerial mechanics. Hitherto, ever since we have had a recorded history, we have had more or less well defined frontier lines guarded with costly fortifications. These have in a day suddenly become obsolete and worthless. Aerial warriors can with impunity destroy the costliest fortifications and change the entire frontier of a country.

Commerce Always Loser.

"Another phase of the modern peace movement is the knowledge that immeasurable loss to international commerce is the inevitable result of a war between two great nations. The brisk trade in munitions of war is but temporary, and has little to do with international trade in the staples. Commerce always is the loser in a war. Last year over 180 boards of trade sent resolutions to the World's Peace Foundation in Boston approving President Taft's unreserved indorsement of arbitration treaties between the great nations. It also received many similar communications from European bodies.

"The artists of the world always have deplored warfare. Napoleon's troops did a great damage to the great art objects of the world when they looted the art treasuries of Italy. Militarism always has been a damage to art, both in a material way and because war never can be a source of that genuine spirituality from which art springs. War destroyed the two greatest works of antiquity, the Alexandrian library and the artistic productions of the Greeks."

Meeting Held at Cathedral.

At the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul a peace meeting was held under the auspices of the Chicago Peace society at which Bishop Charles P. Anderson presided. Charles E. Bungalow Murder Victim and Postcard Clew to Identity.

A postcard found with the body of the woman who was murdered in a bungalow near Los Angeles has brought the police to believe the slayer was Caiphias Dillon of Chicago, who was killed by a train at Wilmette. The card was signed "C. C. Dillon." The name gave a clew in following out which Dillon was learned to have lived in Chicago with a woman as his wife. The photograph of the victim of the murder was identified yesterday as that of a woman who was known as Dillon's wife. He had two households.

FIGHT EDUCATION TEST FOR ALIENS

Chicago Immigrants' Protective League Condemns Dillingham Bill.

SEES BLOW AT FREEDOM.

Speakers at Massmeeting Hold Passport Clause Menace to Political Refugees.

Strong protests against the passage of the Dillingham alien bill, with its educational test and deportation features, were heard last night at the Auditorium, where the Immigrants' Protective league held a massmeeting to protest against the measure. Representatives of nearly every country, practically all of whom were themselves emigrants to the United States at one time, joined in the denunciation of the amendments to the Dillingham bill proposed by Senator Root of New York.

That the proposed restrictions are un-American, and will serve to keep from this country immigrants of the character and type needed, was the declaration of all the speakers. Resolutions, to be sent to the members of the Illinois congressional delegation, asking them to use their influence against the measure, were passed.

Says Nation Needs Aliens.

A. A. McCormick, president of the league, in explaining the proposed amendments to the bill, said:

"We must not forget that we are children of immigrants. The welcome and opportunity that was extended to our fathers must not be denied by us to those anxious to come and share those same opportunities and responsibilities. Our country needs the labor of every honest and healthy immigrant who has the intelligence and enterprise to come here. The so called literary test of the Burnett bill would bar those we want and admit those we do not want. The clever scoundrel and swindler generally knows how to read and write.

"The only questions which are appropriate are: Is the newcomer healthy, strong, and desirous of earning a good living? Many who cannot read or write have common sense, sound bodies, and good characters. If there is any one thing more than another that this country prides itself on and can offer is educational facilities. Constant effort to restrict immigration by un-American methods has been made for over seventy years, and it probably will continue until we Americans realize that the people who have come in the steerage have done more to upbuild this country than all the first cabin passengers from the Mayflower to the Olympic."

Educator Condemns Passport Clause.

Prof. Charles R. Henderson of the University of Chicago said:

"I am against this thing on principle. The laws for the supervision and restriction of immigration are sufficient already. The literacy test is absurd. No man can be a successful crook without being able to read and write. Many men can read and write who would not make good citizens. If immigration is to be restricted for economic reasons that kind of legislation should be open and frank. It should not be cloaked under this bill."

"This passport clause is a contradiction of the principles of liberty upon which this country is founded," said Mr. Emil G. Hirsch. "It would offer no end of opportunity for police graft, both here and among the European police. It is allowing a foreign nation to institute its secret police system in this country."

Letters were received from President Harry Pratt Judson of the University of Chicago, President A. W. Harris of Northwestern university, and Stephen S. Gregory, president of the American Bar association.

STOP PARADE? BIFF! BANG!

Italians Attack Conductor Who Wants Them to Get Out of Way.

DROP BANNERS AND FIGHT.

Police Compelled to Rescue Car Man Who Stirred Trouble.

An Italian parade was transformed to an attacking army in Chicago avenue yesterday afternoon when William Baumann, 1342 Melrose street, motorman of a Southport car, leaned out of his door and suggested that the parade move to the side and let the car pass.

The Italians shouted, dropped their banners and plug hats, and swarmed into the car, beating Baumann and Herman Kloppman, 3829 Southport avenue, the conductor, with clubs.

Then the parade split up and faded away. Samuel Licansi, 928 Milton avenue, and James Meroni, 647 Grand avenue, two stragglers, were arrested. The car crew was taken to Passavant hospital, carrying several cuts and bruises.

WOMEN THROWN INTO PANIC WHEN CAR HITS AUTO TRUCK.

Two Men Injured in Accident Explained by Chauffeur's Losing Control of Steering Wheel.

Women passengers on a north bound Belmont avenue car were thrown into a panic and two of them injured yesterday when a large automobile truck belonging to the United States Express company collided with it on North Clark street, near West Illinois street.

The chauffeur, Fred Pattes, 4406 North Clark street, lost control of the steering wheel and the truck swerved into the front vestibule of the car. The hood of the automobile was crushed in and the front of the vestibule was twisted loose.

Tony Montabino, 1160 Milton avenue, and George Edimm, 1126 Milton avenue, were standing on the front platform, and both were bruised about the back and arms.

Emil Pusan, 1300 South Michigan avenue, was seriously injured yesterday when a motorcycle which he was riding was struck by a Lincoln avenue car near Roscoe boulevard. Pusan was thrown to the street and his head struck the curb, fracturing the skull.

CHANGE IN 'KIDNAPING' SYSTEM.

Car Victim Take to County Hospital Instead of Private Institution "Favored" by Company.

Thomas Enright, West Madison and Peoria streets, a plumber, who was knocked down and injured by a Harrison street car at South Desplaines street, was hurried to the county hospital late Saturday night in an ambulance sent by the claim department of the Chicago Railways company. In view of the numerous cases of "kidnaped" car victims being taken to favored private hospitals, the police expressed surprise at the sudden change. Usually persons injured on the west side are taken when "kidnaped" by the street car company's ambulance to the Littlejohn hospital, 1410 West Monroe street.

MAN PLUNGES INTO RIVER.

Police Are Trying to Learn Identity of Body Not Recovered Following Suicide.

Police are trying to learn the identity of a man about 30 years old who committed suicide late Saturday night by jumping into the river from the Twelfth street bridge. His body was not recovered. Roy Emerich, 2100 Washburne avenue, a bridge tender, who saw the leap, said the man was about 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighed about 150 pounds. He said the victim was well dressed.

TAFT WANTS ROOT G. O. P. CHAIRMAN

Supporters to Put Up Hard Fight to Give Him Temporary Honors.

CLAPP MAY BE OPPONENT

Followers of Col. Roosevelt Look to Hadley or Johnson as Permanent Choice.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—A bitter fight is in prospect over the organization of the Republican national convention in Chicago. The president has selected Senator Elihu Root of New York for temporary chairman. Who has been determined upon for permanent chairman has not been learned. If the Taft forces should control the convention Mr. Root will make the keynote speech, and it will be a strong presentation of the virtues of the president and his administration.

There will be a new program if the Roosevelt men are in command of the situation at Chicago. They will not accept Mr. Root as temporary chairman. They will want a man to deliver the keynote address who is in absolute sympathy with the views of Col. Roosevelt. Such a man, it is suggested, is Senator Clapp, who will be a delegate-at-large from Minnesota.

For permanent chairman the Roosevelt followers are considering Gov. Hadley of Missouri or Gov. Johnson of California. Both are men of force who can be relied upon to maintain orderly proceedings.

Root an Able Chairman.

So far as Mr. Root is concerned, there is no doubt he would make an able temporary presiding officer. While not an orator in the accepted sense of the word, he is the most logical speaker today in congress and marshals his thoughts with precision and presents them with force.

If Col. Roosevelt were to have the majority of the delegates Mr. Root still would applaud the achievements of the present administration, and in this way encourage the Taft delegates and it is suggested might influence the action of the uninstructed delegates. Under the circumstances he becomes impossible from the Roosevelt point of view.

It is extremely doubtful if Mr. Root even would consider accepting the temporary chairmanship in case any fight should be made over it. He feels that in a matter of this kind the presiding officer should be a man who is in sympathy with the views of the majority of the convention.

Delegates Might Disapprove.

In the first place, the convention itself undoubtedly would refuse to permit him to preside, and if it were forced to do so would interrupt his speech and perhaps make such a noise that he could not be heard.

The convention will be called to order by the acting chairman of the Republican national committee, who will present to the convention the name of the temporary chairman. If that man, selected by the committee, should not be acceptable to the majority of the convention, it will be possible, through a motion, to designate a delegate who will be satisfactory.

It is recognition of this fact that the committee is not definitely deciding upon Mr. Root. The action taken will depend on whether Col. Roosevelt or the president obtains a certain majority.

Only four states remain to name delegates—Ohio on Tuesday, New Jersey a week from Tuesday, Arizona on June 3, and South Dakota on June 5. Three states—Ohio, New Jersey, and South Dakota—have presidential preference primaries. The number of delegates the four states will send to Chicago is ninety-four.

Ohio the Pivotal Point.

Comparatively little interest is taken, however, in New Jersey, South Dakota, and Arizona. They will become important only in the event Mr. Taft should sweep Ohio. If he should fail to do so, he will be regarded as out of the running and Col. Roosevelt will have a comparatively easy chance of victory in New Jersey and Arizona. South Dakota is conceded to the colonel.

So far as Ohio is concerned, the Roosevelt men here are confident of getting at least thirty-two of the forty-eight delegates. The Taft figures concede seven of the twenty-one congressional districts to Roosevelt, which means fourteen delegates certain for the colonel. The latter's campaign managers concede only two districts to the president.

In order to be in the running, Mr. Taft, it is admitted, must get more than thirty delegates, including the delegates at large. To break even would be as serious a blow for his candidacy as the loss of the entire state.

OHIO VOTE NAMES CHAIRMAN.

The name of the man selected for temporary chairman of the Republican national convention will remain a secret until the result of the Ohio primaries is known tomorrow night.

This prediction was made by a Republican leader yesterday. Col. Harry S. New, chairman of the subcommittee of the national committee, gave credence to the report by maintaining a discreet silence.

Realization that a defeat in his home state will put the president completely in the discard is said to have prompted the committeemen to withhold the name of their selection until the returns from the Buckeye state are in.

If the president wins in Ohio, according to the report, a chairman bearing the Taft label immediately will be announced, in the hope that it will aid the president in states yet to be heard from. A Roosevelt victory in the president's own state, however, may preclude the naming of a temporary chairman unfriendly to the colonel.

Hold Up Selection.

This attitude is said to have been assumed by the subcommittee members after learning that their original selection would not accept the honor, while there remained a strong probability that the Roosevelt delegates in the convention would refuse to indorse the committee report.

The atmosphere about the committee headquarters is not of the same variety as during the initial conference on Saturday. Then it was asserted that the name of the temporary chairman would be announced in a short time and that he would be a Taft man.

Subsequently Col. New was called to the long distance telephone. The connection is said to have been with Washington. Shortly thereafter he reassembled the subcommittee and when an adjournment was taken the announcement was made that everything had been left in Col. New's hands.

Committee Faces Busy Time.

A busy session is in store for the Republican national committee when the members gather in Chicago on June 6 to hear numerous contests for seats in the Chicago convention.

The District of Columbia, which is only entitled to two votes in the convention, has joined the disputing factions. Two sets of delegates arrived from Washington yesterday.

The North Carolina contest, which is a negro and "lily white" affair, promises a lively scene. The negroes, who have filed a contesting delegation at large, aver they were barred from the deliberations of the so-called "lily whites."

Special Session of Minnesota Legislature Called to Pass Corrupt Practices Act Also.

St. Paul, Minn., May 19.—Gov. A. O. Eberhart has issued a proclamation calling a special session of the legislature to convene June 4 to enact a state wide direct primary law applicable to all state offices. He also recommends an effective corrupt practices act and a reapportionment law.

PERKINS DEMANDS HARVESTER FACTS

Challenges Taft's Secretary to Publish All Correspondence Regarding the Case.

ASK LIGHT FOR PUBLIC.

Says Garbled Statements Misrepresent Attitude of Theodore Roosevelt.

New York, May 19.—Publication of all correspondence looking to the prosecution of the International Harvester company was suggested by George W. Perkins, the New York financier, who upon his return to New York today issued a reply to the statement given out at the White House last Friday night by Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the president.

The statement follows:

"I have read Mr. Hilles' version of the Harvester matter and fail to find anything in it that in the remotest degree answers my letter of April 29 last to Chairman McKinley.

Request of Senate Ignored.

"If Mr. Taft and his managers had at any time meant to be fair and square and frank with the public in this matter they would have complied with the senate's recent request and published in full all that has taken place in regard to the Harvester company during the Taft administration, especially during the last twelve or eighteen months.

"The public is being deluged daily with the Taft version of how Mr. Roosevelt held up Mr. Bonaparte's suit against the Harvester company and why; but great care is being taken to keep from the public all knowledge as to whether or not Mr. Taft held up Mr. Wickersham's suit against the Harvester company and why.

Demand for Full Publicity.

"Full publicity regarding the whole affair would enable the public to form its own judgment and reach its own conclusion. It would also show what Mr. Hilles regards as proper favors for a private secretary to a president seeking renomination to ask from the officers of a corporation threatened with prosecution by the self-same president."

In Two Months the Gillette Razor Saved a New York Man $11.80

Shaving Had Cost Him 20 Cents Every Day For 10 Years—Over $720.00

Small sums paid out regularly mount up big in the long run. Statistics show that the enormous increase in Gillette users accounts for a substantial addition to bank deposits of thousands of men all over the country.

Money that used to be spent for shaving is placed now to the credit of the household—to buy necessities, property, homes, clothing and luxuries.

For years men resented the expense of being shaved. But they couldn't give the time to shave themselves with the ordinary razor—with the fuss of stropping and honing and similar nuisances.

The Gillette was what men wanted—an easy, safe, quick, convenient shave and the cost so small scarcely worth figuring.

What the Gillette Will Do for You

Whatever your shaving habits may be, no matter how tender your skin or tough and wiry your beard, the Gillette will give you a clean velvet shave.

It will give you a light shave or close shave (closer than a barber dare give you), with no roughness, no irritation.

It is not necessary that you know how to shave yourself. You do not need to be "tool-wise" or handy. There is no stropping, no honing.

You quickly get the knack of the Gillette and you will learn little individual shave-simplifying tricks every day you use it.

The wonder of the Gillette is its adaptability—the way it meets individual needs.

Every man's face is different. Your beard is individual in the way it grows and its shaving requirements.

The adjustment of the Gillette will suit your beard and your skin. The Gillette will save you time and money and it is safe.

Think of the comfort of it; the ability to shave in two or three minutes in the morning as regularly as you wash your face. The convenience and simplicity—no litter of strops and hones. No danger of bad cuts and scratches.

Don't Put It Off—Buy a Gillette To-day

Considering all the Gillette means in comfort and economy, it should be in the hands of every man in this city with a beard to shave.

Don't be without it another day.
Ask your dealer.
If you can't go now, go soon.
The very next time you see a Gillette in a store window go in and talk to the man about it.

FIGHT TO DELAY VOTE ON LORIMER

Desperate Efforts to Defer Final Action on Resolution Till the Next Session.

PLEA OF ILLNESS MADE.

Senators' Friends Contend He Is Unable to Appear in Washington Today.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 19.—[Special.]—Friends of Senator Lorimer are making desperate efforts to postpone until the next session of congress a vote on the resolution to oust him from his seat in the senate.

The advantage of such a course is obvious. Twelve senators who voted for the retention of Lorimer in 1911 are candidates for reelection this fall. If they are defeated it is practically certain they will continue to uphold Lorimer. If they are forced to vote before the elections, it is feared by Lorimer's advocates that some of them will be influenced by the public conviction that the Illinois senator acquired his seat through bribery and corruption. Moreover, if these men are reelected it is figured they will feel disposed to support Lorimer, since six years will elapse before they again appear before the people seeking for return to office.

The senate has been informed that Mr. Lorimer is ill. For this reason delay of final action is urged. Late reports from Chicago indicate that Mr. Lorimer has been able to leave his house, but if he will take the advice of his champions here he will return to it and stay until congress can be induced to adjourn.

Efforts to Delay Action.

Mr. Lorimer is likely to be guided by the suggestions he receives from Senators Penrose, Bailey, and others, who intend to stick by him through thick and thin. Under the circumstances it may be expected that Senator Dillingham and other Lorimerites will not agree to a time for a vote on the Lorimer case tomorrow.

It was stated some days ago by Senator Lea of Tennessee, one of the minority of the investigating committee, which is opposed to Lorimer's continued membership in the senate, that as a result of conferences with the majority of the committee, it was expected at the time the report was submitted, an agreement would be announced with reference to the date for the disposition of the case.

Mr. Dillingham and the men behind him, however, will not consent to a vote until forced to do so. They will endeavor to arrange to keep other business before the senate—the situation is such that this can be done through parliamentary trickery—until they reach the point where it is believed the exigencies of the campaign will force an adjournment of congress.

Precedent in Stephenson Case.

The plans of these men are embarrassed by the fact that many of the senators have declared there must be a vote before they will consent to an adjournment, and also by the course which the senate regulars pursued in connection with the Stephenson election case.

The moment the Stephenson report was submitted, that moment Senator Heyburn brought the resolution to seat the Wisconsin senator before the senate and kept it there on the ground of a "high privilege" until an agreement was reached for a vote.

It is the intention of the Lorimer men to fix dates for speeches on the tariff and other matters so as to prevent the discussion of the Illinoisan's case.

Senator Dillingham will present his report tomorrow, which will be signed by himself, Senators Gamble of South Dakota, Jones of Washington, Fletcher of Florida, and Johnston of Alabama. Senators Lea and Kenyon of the minority are away from Washington, but will be back tomorrow or Tuesday. Senator Kern is here, but whether he will care to present the views of himself and colleagues in the absence of the latter is not known.

DENIES SOCIALISTS MAY UNITE WITH THE PROHIBITION PARTY.

Job Harriman of Los Angeles, National Executive Committeeman, Scoffs at Rumor of Political Combination.

Job Harriman of Los Angeles, a member of the executive committee of the National Socialist party, yesterday scoffed at the idea of a coalition of the Socialist and Prohibition parties in the coming national campaign.

In passing through Chicago with other delegates who are returning from the Socialist national convention at Indianapolis, Mr. Harriman discussed the rumor started by a letter said to have been sent to the convention by Charles H. Jones, chairman of the National Prohibition party.

"The report is absolutely without foundation and there is no possibility of an alliance.

UNITED STATES BRINGS SUIT AGAINST THE COFFEE TRUST.

Brazilian Valorization Scheme Declared Violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

New York, May 19.—Attorney General Wickersham has moved against the coffee trust, or Brazilian valorization scheme. In a petition in equity filed in the United States court yesterday the valorization plan is declared to be a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The court is asked to decree the scheme unlawful, to enjoin the valorization committee from withholding coffee from the market and to appoint a receiver to sell the 950,000 bags valued at $10,000,000, now alleged to be stored in warehouses of the New York Dock company.

Flowers & Gardening

More Questions Answered.

BY EBEN E. REXFORD.

J. N. J. ASKS what treatment to give an azalea after blooming in order to secure flowers another season.

Put the plant in a warmer atmosphere than was given it when flowering and shower it all over daily. Warmth and moisture will encourage a growth of new wood upon which the flowers of next season will be borne. This growth should take place immediately after the completion of the flowering period. After the plant comes to a standstill put it out of doors in a cool and airy place, neither very shady nor very sunny, and allow it to remain there until fall. But be sure, be very sure to see that it never gets dry at its roots. The flowers of next season depend upon the care which is given the plant during the summer season. These flowers are produced from buds formed during the summer months, and if the plant gets dry almost invariably the buds blast. Therefore it is of the utmost importance that it should receive the most careful attention after being put out of doors.

Mrs. W. W. D.—This correspondent wants to know how to start a cutting of English ivy. I would advise filling a large mouthed vial with rainwater and dropping the cutting into it. Hang the vial in the window where the bottom of it can get the benefit of sunshine—this can be arranged for by a proper disposition of the window shade—and as the water evaporates put in more. It may take some time for roots to form, but if the cutting is a healthy one and not too old and woody it will start after a time. I find this the most satisfactory method of starting all plants having a tough bark, like the oleander and orange. It is a slow process, but it is much surer than attempting to start these cuttings in soil. When roots have grown to the length of an inch or more lift the plant out of the bottle and set it in light earth, which should be firmed about the delicate roots very carefully. Keep well watered until growth becomes active.

D. V. G.—I think you can procure seed of lavender from almost all the eastern seed houses. I do not think you will be able to find seedling plants of it anywhere, because it is a plant in so little demand that it would not pay any florist to start it in any quantity.

Young Gardener.—It would not be possible for me to give "full instructions for growing all kinds of garden vegetables," as you request, in the limited space at my disposal in this paper. What you should do is to procure a standard work on vegetable gardening and study it until you are familiar with the methods followed by successful gardeners. Many of the catalogues of the leading seedsmen contain information that is of great value along this line—in short, some of them are really quite complete garden manuals as well as seed catalogues. Send for some of them. They will be sent free of charge.

A. D.—I do not advocate much pruning among the shrubs we grow in our gardens. To me those which train themselves are far more graceful than those which are given a clipping every season. I think it safer to trust to the instincts of the plants than it is to take the matter into my own hands with the intention of improving on nature. A closely pruned shrub always has a prim, stiff, unnatural appearance. Therefore all the pruning I would advise is cutting out the old wood occasionally and removing any branches that have been injured.

Marion Harland's Helping Hand. Our Monday Miscellany.

BY MARION HARLAND.

Roumanian Nudles.

"I have sent the pieces to Mrs. I. E. B. Do you know of any one wanting magazines? I receive two every month which I will gladly send regularly to some shut-in as soon as I get through with them. I note a request in the Corner for nudles. Here is mine. It has been used three generations in our family:

"To a sifterful of flour, well sifted into a mixing bowl, add six beaten eggs and a pinch of salt, with enough cold water to make a dough soft enough to roll; knead well, the longer the better. Divide into two pieces. Roll each as thin as possible, spread on a floured board or cloth until it is dry enough not to stick together, but not so dry as to crack when folded. Then fold into a two inch strip and cut (holding your thumb at edge of strip) into any width desired. I cut mine a thirty-second part of an inch, but it takes a little experience before you can cut them so fine. The same strip could be cut into half inch widths, which are cut crossways in one-half inch, making pretty little squares. These make dainty and delicious puddings, soups, etc. Nudles or squares (forfel they are called made in this fashion), after they are properly dried, may last for months.

"May I ask a favor? I should appreciate some books by Carmen Sylvia (Queen of Roumania) in English or in Roumanian.

"If permitted I will soon drop in with some Roumanian recipes which I hope you will like.

"MRS. M. E. G."

A notable contribution to our miscellany that should incline us to be on the lookout for the books you would get. The author is so widely and favorably known in America that her books should be in many a library on this side of the water. Any information that may lead to the gratification of the desire expressed by you will be gratefully received.

Let us have the recipes at your convenience. We shall be glad to get them.

Wants to Adopt Children.

"We feel sad and lonely these days, for on Dec. 16 our beloved boy died. We should be glad to adopt one or two children from 2 to 12 years of age who are orphans and who have no other brothers and sisters. We are in middle life, Protestants, with an income of $40 a week.

"MRS. E. M., Chicago."

The little story requires no comment from me to direct to the hearts of children lovers. Nor need I add that the little ones whom Providence may commit to this mother will be safely and lovingly housed for a lifetime. Should there be two orphans of the same parentage the opportunity will be exceptionally propitious.

Has Home for a Girl.

"I should like to know if I could get a girl about 10 or 12 years of age. I should like her as a companion and will give her a good home in return. We are a young couple, married eight years, with no children, and as my husband is away a great deal of the time I should like some one to stay with me and should prefer to give a child a home. We own our home.

"Mrs. H. B."

The writer's address is in my hands. Even if the former applicant has secured the girl she asked for, another may be looking for home and protection from the discomfort and perils that assail an unprotected and friendless woman child in her early years.

Don't Forget the Stamps.

"Would you please once again say a word or two in the Corner about the proper way to send any article which one wants to give away? I know you have many times done this, but just at present I have before me two packages of postcards. On one the giver has paid 20 cents, on the other 16. But why, O, why do they send them to the newspaper offices or to you, either, for that matter? I have just sent a large package to the invalid boy, Harold W., whose address you kindly forwarded to me. The giver left 25 cents, of course, thinking that would be sufficient. It costs 55 cents, so I took the 30 cents out of my own pocket book rather than disappoint the little chap. I don't mind that at all for they mean to do the right thing. Apparently they can't seem to remember just what that is.

A. E. B."

This gentle protest from a fellow worker—a newspaper woman, whose active benevolence is unfailing—is but one of several communications to the like effect.

She may not "mind it" and indeed the inconvenience and expense to one individual may be trifling. But when these are a daily affair they gain weight until they are a real cross.

For example, there go from my desk today 200 letters of inquiry for addresses, not one of which is represented by inclosed stamp, still less by stamped and self-addressed envelopes. And this is an almost daily occurrence. My bill for stamps affixed to replies to correspondents who have forgotten to inclose them in writing for addresses and other information runs into hundreds of dollars in the course of a year.

As our kind protestant says, "they mean to do the right thing," and in appreciation of this we try to do the same. Two cents is but a trifling tax upon one person. When a hundred forget to slip the stamp into a letter asking for a reply by mail it means $2 at this end of the line.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

M. B.: Do not under any consideration put anything into your eyes to make them sparkle. They are too precious to tamper with in this way. The eyes should be washed every morning just the same as the teeth. In this way they will become brighter. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent wash for the eyes and also a set of strengthening exercises. These exercises will not only strengthen but also brighten the eyes.

P.: If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you the formula for an excellent hair tonic in which I have perfect faith, also complete instructions for scalp massage. I am sure these will help you a great deal.

ETHEL: If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be glad to send you the formula for the green soap treatment for blackheads and an excellent cleansing cream, also a bleach for the face.

Laura Jean Libbey's Comment and Advice.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1912: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

Husband Is Unreasonable.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a married woman of 27. I have two children. I am living at a boarding house where there is a young man of 24. He passes remarks at the table such as, 'Your hair is fixed different this evening,' or 'You look nice in that dress.' The baby is quite taken up with him.

"This seems to make my husband jealous and he does not speak to the young man. Do you think this is a good cause for his jealousy. AN ANXIOUS WIFE."

No, I think your husband is unreasonable, but so long as he takes the attitude that he does you better avoid the fellow as much as possible.

* *

Don't Elope!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 21 and deeply in love with a little peach of a girl of 18. I have asked her to marry me, but her folks object because I am a barber and have to work evenings. I really don't see how I can give her up, as she is so loving when I am with her. I know it would break my heart. She wants me to elope with her, but I don't think that is the right thing to do. Would you advise me to try and win her folks' consent, or give her up?

"LINCOLN."

O, my! Don't elope, whatever you do. It is a foolish thing even to think about. I am sure if you are the right sort you can convince her parents that you love each other and wish to marry.

* *

Can She Win Him?

"Dear Miss Libbey: Do you think it is within a girl's power to win a man's love if in the beginning he has no love for her and she knows him just in a business way? If so, how should I treat him if he ignores me? W."

It all depends on the girl, the man, and to some extent on propinquity. Love cannot be driven, corralled, or beaten into submission. He is an independent little fellow and comes and goes at his own sweet will. He oftentimes gets terribly frightened if he is chased or even angled after.

* *

Looks Eagerly for Proposal.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a wealthy girl of about 28. In my past I have had two gentlemen friends and in each case I thought him to be my true friend and looked eagerly for his proposal. But this waiting was all in vain, for neither one proposed. I am keeping company with a third friend now, of whom I think equally as much. I feel that we are at the point where he should propose, and fear that he will drop me as the others. Do you think it would be proper for me to propose to him, as this is leap year, and I feel confident that I could put the proposition before him in a way that he would not refuse.

"ROSIE C."

No, do not propose to him or he will run away from you faster than the others did. I think the reason you have been so unsuccessful in securing the desired proposal is because you make it too evident you are crasy about marrying. Try to appear less anxious and perhaps you will have better success.

PASTOR SETS WEDDING RECORD.

The Rev. James E. Walker Performs Three Ceremonies Within as Many Hours.

The Rev. James E. Walker, pastor of First United Presbyterian church, Central Park avenue and West Congress street, performed three wedding ceremonies in as many hours on Saturday. Late in the afternoon he married William Noble and Miss Bethel MacDonald at the parsonage. He had to hurry to reach 3333 West Congress street, the residence of Miss Jessie Salter, to marry her to Raymond Boerman. He had only two blocks to go for the third ceremony, in which he united Miss Goldie M. Silvers, 3620 West Congress street, and John D. Blount of Western Springs.

Patients Sleep During Fire.

While patients were sleeping at Wesley hospital, 2449 South Dearborn street, crossed electric wires late Saturday set fire to bedclothing in a room on the third floor. A loss of $20 was caused. No alarm was sounded, and firemen quietly entered the building, which was recently the scene of another fire. Attendants refused to give out any information.

Mrs. Fahrney, who is in Ann Arbor now, has notified her husband that their son is somewhat better.

Dr. Alfred H. Gunther, south side dentist, and Mrs. Katherine Hellman were married yesterday in Crown Point, Ind. Mrs. Hellman is a sister-in-law of J. H. Schiller, former secretary of the Conrad Seipp Brewing company. She has been living at the Schiller residence, 549 East Thirty-fourth street.

Only a few of the couple's friends knew of their plans. They drove to the Indiana town in Dr. Gunther's automobile.

Since Dr. Gunther and his first wife were divorced three years ago he has been attentive to Mrs. Hellman.

Wreck Safe to Get Evidence.

While their two prisoners, sitting in chairs, smoked cigars and watched their efforts, detectives from Assistant Chief Schuettler's office worked with sledge hammers for four hours before they were able to wreck two steel doors of a vault and seize handbook evidence in an office at 215 South Dearborn street late Saturday night. Frank Stone and Arthur Jackson were taken into custody.

TAX REFORMERS DEMAND NEW LAW

Favor Submission of More than One Constitutional Amendment.

WANT SINGLE ACTION.

Commercial Club Committee Says Measure Opens Way to Correcting Many Evils.

Tax reform in Illinois demands the passage of the resolution now pending in the legislature at Springfield which will make it possible for more than one constitutional amendment to be referred to the voters during one session of the legislature. That is the view of Chairman A. C. Bartlett of the Commercial club committee on taxation reform.

As things now stand, Mr. Bartlett said yesterday, advocates of the referendum and other proposed constitutional amendments compete with the advocates for a better method of taxation with the result that none of the reforms is accomplished.

The senate already has passed the resolution which, if indorsed by the voters, will permit three amendments to be considered during one session. The resolution is now hanging fire in the house pending the settlement of the mileage dispute between the Lee O'Neil Browne faction and the administration forces.

Attacks Present Taxing System.

"I undertake to affirm," Mr. Bartlett said, "that there is nothing in the administration of the laws of Illinois so universally demoralising, so corrupting to the individual citizen, as our manner of raising revenue through taxation, based upon our present mode of assessment of personal property. Only about 21 per cent of the income for the support of the various branches of the government is raised from the taxation of personal property—rather a small fraction to cause the self-abasement and debauchery of a portion of our taxpayers and to place others under suspicion.

Wealthy Men Fear Reform.

"Our assessors and members of the board of review say frankly that the present system is a farce. Some wealthy men, it is said, deplore a change because they fear that under a just law which could be enforced their own payments of taxes would be larger. That state of mind cannot exist with men who stand for justice and good morals.

"The taxation reform committee of the Commercial club has not indorsed any special scheme of improvement. The Commercial club is behind any constitutional amendment which will lead to just and equitable revenue laws."

HAMILTON CLUB FIGHT WARM

Guy Guernsey and W. B. Austin Rivals for Presidency.

ELECTION WILL BE TODAY.

Outcome Interesting in View of Republican National Convention.

The Hamilton club will hold its annual election of officers today, the polls opening at noon after one of the most strenuous and hard fought campaigns the club has yet seen. Two tickets are in the field, one headed by Guy Guernsey and the other by William B. Austin. The efforts to win the election, the first held in the new clubhouse, have been accompanied by all the features of a political contest.

The fact that the Hamilton club will be the host to the Republican chiefs here to attend the national convention, as well as the prestige which the officers will receive during a presidential year has added to the zest of the race for the office. The Roosevelt-Taft contest has also entered prominently into the campaign, Mr. Guernsey being an avowed adherent of the colonel.

Here Is the Ticket.

The two tickets to be voted upon today are as follows:

"WHITE" TICKET.

President—Guy Guernsey.
Vice presidents—Eugene H. Garnett and Charles W. Denicke.
Secretary—Russell Wiles.
Treasurer—W. F. Van Buskirk.
Directors—F. D. Ayres, Frederick Carles, W. G. Barfield, Henry C. Morris, and Fred W. Pringle.
Political action committee—James Callana Jr and Alexander Fyffe.

"REGULARS" TICKET.

President—William B. Austin.
Vice presidents—M. B. Orde and Arthur R. Clark.
Secretary—William Otter.
Treasurer—L. H. Grimme.
Directors—George S. Ballard, Elmer D. Brothers, Lucius Teter, Homer E. Tinsman, and S. S. Vastine.
Political action committee—Samuel A. Harper and John L. Johnson.

Platforms of Candidates.

The friends of Mr. Austin have been advocating his election on the basis that he was one of the most active in obtaining the financial support which enabled the club to build its new clubhouse in South Dearborn street, near Madison. It is argued in his behalf that he deserved the prestige which will come to the head of the Hamilton club in the coming national campaign. Mr. Guernsey also was active in the work of obtaining the new clubhouse and his friends say the Hamilton club needs a practical politician at its helm during the campaign.

Part of the Guernsey platform calls for increased social activities for the club—"Ladies' day" in the gymnasium and swimming pool for the wives and women relatives of members.

President Rossbach was not a candidate for reelection and both factions have indorsed his administration. The voting will begin at noon today, the polls closing at 6 o'clock.

"CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES."

The Sober Minded are out on the doorstep again in their sackcloth and ashes. The English judge before whom the sailors of the Olympic were brought up charged with mutiny held that the charge had been proved, but that punishment would be "inexpedient in view of the peculiar circumstances of the case."

Various pillars of society in the tremulous east sway in pain. O, flabby times, flabby times. Justice sits pale faced and afraid on the bench and dare not punish; adopts a "gentle and feminized method of treating mutiny."

"Peculiar circumstances"? Yes, of a great ship hastily fitted out with life boats which the seaman's sense of the men accused said did not guarantee the security they promised. When the sailors deserted it may have been mutiny, but the judge was a Daniel.

POETRY AND PUNCHES.

The symbolists who have hung enraptured upon "Pelleas and Melisande" and the other poetic dramas of M. Maeterlinck must have been horribly shocked at the announcement that "the Belgian Shakspeare" was to risk his precious face, if nothing else, in the prize ring with a professional boxer who bears the horribly commonplace name of Carpentier.

Had the contestants jousted with spears in the lists for the honor of their respected ladies, or had they hacked at each other with Excaliburs, there would have been some poetic appropriateness in the combat, but with the fists like scullion boys—horrors!

Imagine the reports from the ringside! Fourth round—Maurice left his corner groggy and showing punishment. Making a blind rush at his opponent, he landed a feeble one on the ribs and received a stinger on the neck, followed by an uppercut on the jaw which sent him down for the count.

Has M. Maeterlinck become tired of dealing with a world of shadows and symbols that he thus engages in the brutal sport of the materialists? Is he to desert the stage for the prize ring, and henceforth to be known as the "Brussels Sprout"?

FOR TRUE REPRESENTATION.

Some day the Republican party will rid itself of the dead weight of southern misrepresentation. It may be by action in the national convention this year, or it may be delayed for some other convention to apply rationality to the nomination of candidates and the government of the party. It will come.

There is much thundering against the iniquities of federal machine rule in the south. It would seem to be a common sense procedure to strip the postmasters, revenue collectors, etc., of the power which is given them by Democratic votes. If they had votes in the convention in proportion as there were Republican votes in their states they would become greatly diminished absurdities in the councils of the party.

The preferential primary is one means of making the nomination of candidates a true expression of popular will. A reconstruction of the delegate system in convention is another. The states are providing themselves with primary laws. It remains for the national convention to change the rules of the party organization so that the states have authority and power as they have Republican votes. Then the party will be on a solid basis of equity and honesty.

A DELICATE DISCRETION.

The shoes of Champ Clark's campaign managers fit in the footprints found about the quarters of Woodrow Wilson's Pennsylvania delegates. That identifies the languishing singers who have been coaxing Mr. Wilson's pledged supporters to come out of their cloister of scholastic simplicity and see a bit of life.

The following ardent note was slipped under the door of Asher R. Johnson of Bradford, a Wilson delegate, by Grover C. Ladner, president of the Champ Clark league of Pennsylvania.

"I do not hesitate to ask you to pledge yourself to vote for Speaker Clark on the second ballot, if one is necessary. Should there be any personal reason which makes it inexpedient at this time for you to publicly announce your support we will respect your wishes and refrain from making your pledge public. Your pledge of support, if you so desire, will be made known only to Speaker Clark and his general campaign manager, Senator Dubois."

The languishing Ladner stood on the lawn outside tenderly strumming the passionate guitar and singing "Only wear a red rose in the moonlight" when Mr. Johnson opened the window and threw a brick:

"This sounds to me more like a proposition in ward politics to let some one in on the ground floor."

So it does, as charmingly clandestine as a job of ward politics.

HUMANE ENTERPRISE.

Practical business is developing enthusiasm for social service, a notable instance being found in the announcement that the National Electric Light association which does welfare work for many electric light companies will furnish electric fans and current free for the sick poor in New York and elsewhere. The idea is not new, but it is being applied widely and the service is regarded as profitable as well as philanthropic.

The companies interested offer, on the recommendation of a physician, to run a short loop circuit into a room, install a fan and supply the current. If that can help a sufferer to survive exhaustion in sweltering days or bring comfort to the sick poor the companies will stand the expense.

There is shrewdness in the offer and the companies no doubt call it business and not philanthropy. But the philanthropy is there.

THE LOST ART OF LIVING.

And now comes the time when a fresh glory crowns Chicago—the glory of her blossoming parks and boulevards; yes, and her pleasant prairie stretches and odd little outlying lanes. Any one living in Chicago who really wishes to go into the country can do so by paying 5 cents, for after all, huge, busy, black, and aggressive though Chicago may be, she is still young. It was only yesterday, as history reckons, that she came into existence, here in the flowering prairie, and all about her are still happy reminders of less urban days.

But quite aside from the accidental fields and paths are those great arteries of city life, the boulevards, and on them the parks are strung like great jade beads. Acres and acres of these gardens, belonging to the people, are bursting into leaf and blossom. The grass grows no greener in Versailles nor Kensington. The tender, gray-blue mist of spring rests no more delicately over the chestnuts of the Bois de Boulogne or the ancient solitudes of the Cacine at Florence. Nowhere is there a sea more superb than Michigan in these days of wind and sun and shower. Its bands of stormy purple and of green, as translucent as that which smiles over the coral reefs of the Bahamas, shift and re-form and waver before the enchanted eyes.

A fair city this, well framed for pleasure. Were so fair a town situate in Europe, or South America, or the West Indies, or, indeed, anywhere else in the world, the boulevards would be lined in the afternoon and evening with pleasure seekers. The parks would be thronged, the beaches would be brilliant with life. With the expanding year people would become bland, gracious, indifferent to criticism, spontaneous, polite. If one could not ride in an automobile one would ride in a donkey cart. If one lacked a tailor made costume, one at least could wear gingham and a kerchief. And, come what might, the sky and the wind, sunset and moonrise, the park and the plaza would belong to the people. There would be laughter, eating and drinking, music and flirtation, and dull care might consider himself the companion of colder days.

But here some sad sense of propriety, some fetich of responsibility to our tasks, some grotesque desire to ride in an automobile or nothing, some heavy, senseless lack of understanding of the true meaning of life leave our boulevards all but deserted and our parks only partially populated. We think we are democratic, but dare we call ourselves that till you in your finery and I in my patched, clean homespun can dine al fresco, elbow to elbow, on the public green, or nod at each other from our little tables under the trees? We shall not be really civilized till we know enough to seize our holidays at the propitious moment; we shall not be a happy or a genial or a delightful people till we dare forego the dollar for the delight which the Maker of the Universe meant all men to have.

THE SCHOOLS AS SOCIAL CENTERS

In our enlightened neighbor state, Wisconsin, the idea of using schoolhouses as social centers was certain to thrive. Speaking of two recent elections involving the idea, Senator La Follette's Weekly says:

Forty-five places in Wisconsin have begun the movement for community organization and conscious social center development. The result of the popular indorsement of this movement, expressed at the ballot box on April 2 in these two communities at the opposite sides of the state, will strengthen the hearts of the school boards in the cities and towns between, who have wanted proof that social center development is popular with the electors. It will inevitably result in hastening the appointment in every town in Wisconsin of a man who as associate to the superintendent of schools will serve as civic secretary, social center organizer, and recreational leader, which is the practical next step in Wisconsin.

In Chicago the school center movement is well begun. Sixteen buildings were utilized last winter with encouraging results, and there is little question that the idea will be industriously developed in a community so thoroughly alive to measures of social and civic betterment as ours is coming to be. Chicago made a splendid beginning with the small parks, and leads the cities in this work. She ought to push the school center project, which is closely allied to it, with equal vigor.

As a matter of course the Hon. Ty Cobb should be fined for trouncing the grand stand fan who abused and insulted him. It would take the Hon. Ty's adherents perhaps two or three minutes to raise the amount of the fine and costs and pay it for him.

You don't doubt for a moment, we hope, that Secretary Wilson, when he has a little leisure from the arduous and compelling duties of his position, will explain that meat inspection matter to your e... satisfaction.

Yes, "Desperate," it is murder ... kill the man on the car seat opposite who insists on crossing his legs and wiping his feet on your trousers," but the jury probably would recommend mercy.

After the candidates have been duly nominated, gentlemen, a slightly impatient people will insist that all this presidential stumping shall cease. By the way, has any nominee who stumped the country for the presidency ever been elected?

Many a mother celebrated Mothers' day by looking after the kids, as usual, while father was grumbling because there was no ball game.

This prediction still stands that Taft will be nominated on the first ballot.—Sioux City Journal.

As to that prediction even the Saturday Evening Post is hedging.

Struggle with These Metaphors.

Marvel not that Guzler's stranded on the bar,
That they quote his stock a hundred less than par.
Have you ever seen a boat
That would stand erect and float
With potations and naught else to brace its spar?

Guzler misconceived just what "displacement" meant;
All his nautical technique he stoutly bent
To soak every drop in sight,
And his avid appetite
Caused the tide by which his bark on shoals was sent. HOWARD.

ACROMEGALY.

GROWTH is not a matter of chance. One determining factor is heredity. A child is born destined to reach a certain size. However, circumstances, such as an attack of summer complaint or measles, may intervene to prevent the child from developing as destined. More than that, the person is destined to grow after a certain fashion until about 14; then to radically change her growth so as to fit a new set of specifications; then, at about 25, to quit growing, but to fatten; about the 40s to fatten more rapidly; about the 70s to lose fat; and finally, about the 80s, to dry out and shrink.

These changes are not matters of chance. The growth in childhood is due to the secretions of the ductless glands, and, principally, the thyroid (in the neck), the thymus (in the chest, just over the heart), and the pituitary (in the brain, just back of the eyes).

At 14, the rapid growth along new lines is due to absorption of internal secretion of the sexual glands. The changes in percentage of fat, which come later in life, are the result of thyroid changes.

Acromegaly is a disease in which the bones grow to giant size as the result of overactivity of the pituitary body. Many of the museum giants are acromegalics. Dock says:

"The sculptures of many French and Italian churches show interesting examples."

Jack the Giant Killer, and, perhaps, also David, who slew Goliath, had rather an easy time of it, as giants are generally weak both physically and mentally, "furnishing more drum majors than academicians," and dying before they reach middle life.

Acromegaly is somewhat different from giantism. One out of every five acromegalics is a giant, and one out of every two giants is an acromegalic.

In acremegaly the bones grow large—sometimes rapidly, sometimes slowly; the brow bulges, the cheeks become prominent, the chin protrudes, the fingers and hands, feet and toes, become heavy and "bony."

In acromegaly the bones grow large—one end and not at another. Certain bones may be enlarged and not others. In fact, it is the unevenness of development which makes the difference between an acromegalic giant and a so-called normal giant.

In acromegaly, the pituitary body is found enlarged or overactive, without being enlarged. The gland oversecretion poured into the blood causes certain bones to overgrow.

Some day somebody should discover an anti-body to neutralize this secretion, or some surgeon should find a way to remove a part of the gland.

Irregular and abnormal growth, whether resulting in giantism, acromegaly, or some less obtrusive deformity, is a fair field for the investigator.

PLEA FOR BATHERS.

W. J. M. writes: "That is an excellent suggestion of yours, that the park boards should set aside portions of the ponds in the various parks for the use of swimmers during the summer months. It would certainly be one of the most popular features of our park system. The water of Lake Michigan is usually too cold for comfort in swimming. The water in the park ponds is much warmer and would undoubtedly attract thousands who shrink from a bath in the chilly water of the lake. Some years ago I was taking a stroll through Hyde park, London, and came upon an out of the way part of the Serpentine, as the lagoon in that great park is called. There I saw a signboard, on a post near the water, on which was announced that male swimmers, either with or without clothing, were permitted to swim in the section of the lagoon extending westward from that post to a similar post on the shore several hundred yards distant, every morning until 8 o'clock. Why cannot the same plan be adopted here? If it is practicable in the heart of London, why not in Chicago? This would involve no expense whatever, except the cost of a few signboards. There are many spots in our park lagoons where nude males might disport themselves without objectionable exposure, if park policemen were stationed at strategic points to prevent the unwitting approach of any females who might be abroad during the early morning hours. What an immense boon it would be to men and boys during the hot weather! I am sure that if you were to urge this matter on the attention of the park commissioners the thing would be done."

REPLY

On a hot summer day the London people by the thousand bathe and swim in the lakes in the public parks.

FREE BATHING BEACH.

C. H. S. writes: "In connection with your recent article on swimming, I think you would be pleased to know that the Oakland division of the Juvenile Protective association established a free bathing beach last summer at Thirty-eighth street and the lake. Some days upwards of 500 people took advantage of it. Last year we raised the money by subscription. This year the city is going to help us, and we shall be prepared to take care of many more."

REPLY.

Now that the city has taken over this beach, would it not be a good idea for your association to work for some land locked swimming places? Such water would be warm and calm enough to swim in from May to October.

ADVICE ON TENNIS.

C. F. H. writes: "How about tennis for recreation for a fairly robust man of 36, engaged at desk work? Is a good hard 'man's game' of one or two hours too strenuous? Would a heart examination be advisable before commencing, presuming that the subject had not played for four or five years?"

REPLY.

1. It is all right.
2. To begin with, yes; after the muscles have hardened up, no.
3. Not unless you have reason to think your heart is off.

Music.

BY GLENN DILLARD GUNN.

Seven hundred German singers who form the United Singing societies of Chicago assembled on the stage of the Auditorium yesterday afternoon and sang lustily to the placid delight of an audience that filled the theater.

If the public was somewhat undemonstrative in its reception of the choral offerings this circumstance is possibly to be explained by the fact that the male choruses of the city which are dedicated to the cultivation of German song practice their art chiefly in private concerts, and the music lovers who support them have learned to accept the pleasures they provide quietly.

To one accustomed to the more cordial public that patronizes the regular events of the concert season the attitude of the gathering at the Auditorium might easily have been mistaken for coldness. It is certain the efforts of the great chorus seemed to merit warmer expressions of approval than were evoked by the familiar numbers presented.

Under Conductor Othmar Gerasch, these singers have attained excellent standards. The balance of the parts is somewhat uneven by reason of the undue brilliance of the tenors, whose tone became strident in climaxes, and overpowered the soft, warm resonance of the basses and baritones. But all parts are dependable, and the choral portions of the program were marred by no departures from the pitch.

Mr. Gerasch inclines to the obvious in his interpretations. The compositions selected were necessarily of the simplest musical import and could have been relied upon to impart their several messages without stress or emphasis. But Mr. Gerasch is, seemingly, unacquainted with the beauties of artistic economy. Simple contrasts do not appeal to him and his method is to broad and heavy to accomplish that delicate interplay of light and shade that most effectively can color the obvious melodic line of a folk-song. Therefore, such numbers as Köllner's "Morning in the Forest," "Afar," by Silcher, and "The Apprentice's Farewell," by Wengert, were distorted by sundry interpretative exaggerations.

These same exaggerations were executed with the utmost precision by the great chorus and in compositions of such musical crudity as "The German's Song of Triumph," by Abt, where the content of the work matched the interpretative art expended upon it, the results may be characterized as attaining choral virtuosity. The humor and sentiment of the Bavarian folk-song, "Mädele, ruck, ruck, ruck"—a title for which the nearest discoverable English translation might read "Snuggle up, Girlie"—were also happily realized.

The soloists of the afternoon were Miss Lucile Stevenson, soprano, and Alexander Krauss, violinist. Miss Stevenson delivered the exquisite "Ave Maria" from Bruch's "Cross of Fire" with that beauty of tone and distinction of style that entitle her to the position she occupies among the foremost singers on the American concert stage. She also assisted the chorus in the final number, "Awake," by Baldamus. Mr. Krauss played the "Gypsy Airs" of Sarasate so brilliantly that the audience was moved to the one insistent outburst of applause which the afternoon developed. He was obliged to add Schumann's "Dreams" as an encore.

The orchestra assisting was directed by Martin Ballmann, and presumably was recruited from the band that serves the patrons of the North Side Turner hall concerts. It is quite the worst orchestra that has been heard in the Auditorium for many seasons. Its contributions to the program—the "Rienzi" overture and the first movement from Schubert's B minor symphony—may therefore be dismissed without further consideration.

Theaters.

Before sailing for his home in England Saturday William Faversham announced the cast which will play "Julius Cæsar" with him next season. Tyrone Power will have the rôle of Brutus, Frank Keenan will play Cassius, Mr. Faversham himself will have the character of Antony, Fuller Mellish will be the Cæsar, Miss Julie Opp will play Portia, Miss Suzanne Sheldon, Calpurnia; Berton Churchill, Casca, and Arthur Elliott, Trebonius. The production will be made in October.

Mrs. Fiske left for Europe Saturday, planning to spend a short time in Paris, going thence to Auvergne and later to Italy, where she will meet Edward Sheldon to confer with him regarding the play she will appear in next season.

After the close of the run of "The Pearl Maiden"—an incident which seems imminent at the Colonial—that theater will probably present the moving pictures illustrating the African hunting adventures of Paul Rainey, a young Cleveland millionaire. These pictures have been pronounced in other cities to be the best, mechanically and because of the exciting nature of their subject matter, ever produced in a theater.

George C. Tyler's plans for next season include the production of "The New Sin," by B. Hastings, one of the current successes in London.

Al. H. Woods is at present engaged in a scrutiny of the Chicago playhouses in search of a fitting entertainment with which to open his new Julian Eltinge theater in New York next season.

Paul Benjamin, who has officiated as press representative for many eminent American stars, has been appointed manager of the Garrick theater and will begin his duties there in July.

"The Quaker Girl" will begin a summer season at the Illinois this evening with Clifton Crawford, Miss Ina Claire, and Miss May Vokes in the leading rôles.

PAY TO BE HONEST? IT DOES!

Two Chicagoans need no further proof of the old adage, "It pays to be honest." They have been rewarded for returning lost jewelry.

J. B. Murray, an office boy at Marshall Field & Co.'s retail store, received a check for $100 for the return of an $1,800 diamond ring which he found in the Auditorium hotel lobby on Wednesday. The check came from Mrs. M. D. Kennedy of Glen Ellyn, who had lost the ring. Until yesterday the boy's identity was not known. He gave the gem to the clerk and disappeared.

John Jaeger, a valet at Hotel Sherman, found a $500 diamond stud in a pocket of trousers he had pressed. He gave the gem to a clerk. Henry Jamison of St. Louis, a guest, who owned the trousers claimed the diamond and gave Jaeger a roll of bills for a "vacation."

POSTPONE DEDICATION OF HOME.

Dedication of the Chicago home of the Volunteers of America, set for yesterday, was postponed until next Sunday on account of the building not being ready. The new home is at Ann street and Washington boulevard. The building formerly was occupied by the First Congregational church. Members of the grand field council of the organization will come from all parts of the United States to take part in the dedication. Gen. and Mrs. Maud Booth are in the city and will stay for the services.

Hold Festival for Hospital.

PEOPLE who do not like politics are going to have a fatiguing time of it from now on. There may be a lull after the conventions, but, that excepted, there is no relief in sight before November.

MUCH as we esteem Col. Roosevelt personally, our chief interest in his political fortunes lies in the hope that the experiment of democracy may be made in this country. There is no hope of democracy from the Democrats.

IF the lineup were Taft against Clark, we should have to vote again for Mr. Debs. We voted for him once—in 1908—and that ought to let us out for a few years.

SOME May weather, indeed! We are writing these few lines with an oil stove at our elbow and our feet in Evangeline's wool. And speaking of that kind of heater, we are reminded of an eccentric Connecticut woman who declared that her idea of a good oil stove was one that could climb out of a window.

Speaking of Kimmel—

Sir: While reading Boswell today and musing over the marked peculiarities of Dr. Johnson, the idea came to us how simple a matter it would be to solve the "baffling Kimmel mystery" if the original gentleman had possessed the attributes of the erudite doctor. The case would be complete after a requested repetition of the following performance: "While talking he commonly held his head to one side towards his right shoulder and shook it in a tremulous manner, moving his body backwards and forwards, and rubbing his left knee in the same direction with the palm of his hand. Generally, when he had concluded a period, in the course of a dispute, by which time he was a good deal exhausted by violence and vociferation, he used to blow out his breath like a whale."

Still we cannot ask too much of productive Providence. J. B.

[From the Benton Standard.]

After returning to my home in Christopher, Ill., from a visit to friends and relatives in Simpson county, Kentucky, I wish to say to the public that my visit was certainly a success. I was accompanied by my son, Ambrose Mallory, leaving home April 23 and returning May 3, making a short visit but a pleasant one. As it was our first visit to that country we saw many sights that were new to us.

We arrived at Franklin, Ky., at 1:30 in the morning, was directed to the Keystone hotel, where we spent the remainder of the night; order a rig and drove seven miles out to the country to Mr. Jeff Cherry's home (who is my brother-in-law). They received us with great joy, which was pleasing to us. They have a nice family of children, three boys and two girls, all grown up, nice intelligent men and women. In a short time after arriving we were called out to dinner.

The Legal Friend of the People.

CHICKENS AT LARGE.

Weston, Ill., May 12.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there a law governing fowls running at large in Illinois? A neighbor keeps from 50 to 100 chickens which tramp down and destroy my meadows and otherwise injure my crops. S. A. McCARTHY.

There is no state law which prohibits fowls running at large. However, you may recover damages for injury done by the fowls to your property.

If you are living in the town limits, you probably will be further protected by an ordinance which prohibits fowls running at large in the town. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CAN BUY AT TAX SALE.

Chicago, May 16.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—The owner of some property who is extremely careless in business matters has failed to pay taxes on property for two years, and those for 1912 up to the present writing have not been taken care of, and probably will not be. Can his family, through legal procedure, compel him to redeem the property, or must they stand aside and see valuable property lost, some one procuring it for a mere song? Also, is there any limit to redemption charges after two to three years' time? AN ANXIOUS INQUIRER.

The family cannot force him to pay the taxes, but when the property is sold for taxes in the summer of each year, they can buy it at the tax sale, thus keeping a stranger from obtaining a claim against the property. The amount of their bid at the tax sale need be only approximately the amount of the taxes. The father would be compelled, in order to have a clear title, to eventually repay the amount of the bid with interest to the member of the family who thus held the tax certificate or tax deed.

The redemption limit is two years. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A MECHANIC'S LIEN.

Chicago, May 12.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a lien be put on a building without owner's knowledge or notification? Where can records of liens be looked up? HOUSEHOLDER.

A mechanic's lien is established by filing a lien claim with the clerk of the Circuit court in the county building. No notice need be given to the owner.

Records of lien claims filed are proved in Circuit court clerk's office. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SHOULD START SUIT.

Chicago, May 16.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—When a party's lease of a flat is run out, and some rent is due, what can the owner do—about getting the furniture away? The renter has been out of town for a long time, has taken no steps to move, and sends no word about the matter one way or the other. I want to re-rent. Can we hold any of the furniture? W. C.

The landlord can get possession of the premises, if rent is due, by starting a suit called forcible entry and detainer.

The furniture can be held for rent by starting a suit called distress for rent.

Both these may be started in the Municipal court at small expense, and the court costs recovered with the rent. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

HUSBAND NO. 2 AND NO. 1'S CHILDREN.

Chicago, May 14.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A woman with minor children is granted a divorce with the custody and guardianship of the children. She subsequently marries again while the first husband is still living.

1. Is husband No. 2 obliged to support the children and has he any rights of guardianship and they to his name without the authority of the courts?

2. Have these children any rights to his property? A. W.

1. He is not obliged to support the children. He has no right of guardianship, nor have the children a right to his name without a court order.
2. No. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DISTRESS FOR RENT.

Chicago, May 14.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband being out of work, I am in arrears with my rent, and have got notice to move. Can the agent hold my furniture? Or when my husband goes back to work can they make him any trouble? I have no lease. MRS. I. S. T.

The landlord can hold your furniture only by bringing a suit called "distress for rent." If the landlord obtains a judgment against your husband for rent due he can garnishee your husband's wages above $15 per week. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

INTEREST IN HUSBAND'S ESTATE.

Chicago, May 15.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband and I own a farm in Illinois which is mortgaged. We are without children. In case my husband should die without a will by law would I have the privilege of paying off this mortgage and holding the farm, or would it have to be divided between his four brothers and myself? M. H.

On your husband's death you would take a one-half interest in the farm and his brothers would take the other one-half interest between them. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LIABILITY FOR BOARD.

Chicago, May 14.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have been at a boarding house for several months. My husband always paid the board, no bill ever having been made to me, or demanded, or paid by me. He was several weeks delinquent.

1. Can I be held for the bill?
2. Can I be sued for such a claim?
3. Can my trunks or wearing apparel be held by the landlord and sold to pay it? C. L. G.

1. Yes.
2. Yes.
3. Yes, if the landlord brings suit for rent due. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SHOULD GIVE NOTICE.

Chicago, May 16.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—In a case where housekeeping rooms are rented by the week, paid in advance, does the law require roomer to give notice when he wishes to leave? READER.

Yes; the roomer should give one week's notice. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Bartzen's Crew Downs Aldermen.

Peter Bartzen's rampaging crew of county officials turned the tables on the aldermen yesterday in the feature event of the field day program given for the benefit of the Paulist choristers at the White Sox ball yard.

After some gore had been spilled and a large quantity of whitewash had been applied, the protégés of Bartzen emerged from the battle at the long end of the 8 to 0 score after three innings of play.

As a result of the endeavors of a large number of young women who assisted Chairman James J. Stokes and the other officials of the society $5,000 was added to the sum necessary to defray the expenses of the choir in making a European trip. This amount nearly completes a $20,000 fund necessary to finance the six weeks' trip of the choir, consisting of 150 voices.

Pitcher John W. Rainey for the county team was an enigma. He fired four of the aldermen via the strikeout route, and only one received an appointment to first base, Ald. McDonald being the fortunate one by means of a real base hit. The crowd yelled its disapproval.

Although Ald. Cullerton hurled a fair brand of ball, his cohorts failed to support him in proper fashion, and most of the runs scored by the opponents came as the result of miscues. In the first inning four were scored, and in the next the count was duplicated. Nothing happened in the third, at the end of which inning the hostilities were declared at an end.

Following was the lineup:

The police department tug of war team repeated its victory of last year, defeating the firemen by eight inches, after five minutes of concentrated pulling. For the first four minutes the battle was even, but the anchor man on the firemen's team lost his footing, and in the closing minute the police, by a half dozen pulls, passed the center of the rope on their side of the pivot.

The winning team was composed of Sergeant William Shubert, Sergeant William L. Malone [capt.], Conrad Magnuson, Christ Weiland, Francis Clark, Moritz Schmidt, and John Kling. On the firemen's team were Lieut. Jordan, Lieut. Monihan, Lieut. Dillon [capt.], J. Meyers, F. McAuliffe, John Tronberg, and Frank Stessel.

After running a dead heat in an exhibition seventy-five yard sprinting race, Dwyer of the Chicago Athletic association, defeated Holmes of the First regiment by a scant six inches in the runoff. Buckey of De Paul university took third place.

The Paulist cadets gave a neat exhibition, during which they demonstrated a few moves in actual warfare. Commissioner Frank Ragen showed his skill in club swinging.

GIDEONS HOLD CLOSING RALLY.

A brass band followed by a troupe of singing Gideons brought a large crowd to the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, Locust and North La Salle streets, last evening. It was the closing rally of the two day convention of the Illinois society of Gideons.

"The Gideon movement is progressing steadily," said the Rev. E. L. Williams, pastor of the church. "Its membership of Christian commercial travelers makes an appeal to people who generally do not attend church. The work of distributing Bibles through the hotels of the country has brought rich results, as hundreds of testimonials from theatrical people and other travelers make apparent."

The national meeting of the society will be held in Atlanta on July 28. Delegates were elected Saturday afternoon.

Methodist Conference Will Adjourn on May 28.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 19.—[Special.]—The busiest week of this session of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will begin tomorrow. Not only must seven bishops, the editors of all of the official church papers, the secretaries of the benevolent boards and the agents of the Book Concern be elected, but more than three-fourths of all the business of the conference must be acted upon.

Of the seventy-five reports from the various committees which have been published in the Daily Advocate, the organ of the conference, only eleven have been adopted by the conference and each day will bring the printing of many more reports. Adjournment has been fixed for May 28.

The sealing of the last ballot for bishops before being counted has precluded the possibility of even a guess as to the result. The count will begin at 7:30 tomorrow morning and the result will be known before noon.

Dr. W. O. Shephard of Chicago, who received 500 votes on the fifth ballot, continues to be the favorite in the talk in the hotel lobbies, but some speculation is indulged in on account of the calling of the yeas and nays in the vote on the amusement question.

The query is frequently put as to whether those who favored the expunging of the specifications on the dance and theater will try to punish the men who voted with the minority by a shifting of their vote on candidates for the episcopacy.

Of the twelve candidates receiving the highest number of votes for the episcopacy on the ballot previous to the vote on the amusement question nine voted for the expunging of the specifications and three voted for no change.

It is also pointed out that the bishops were unanimous in desiring the change, and yet the fact remains that the majority of the ballots are in the hands of those who opposed the elimination of the rules.

In addition two evangelistic massmeetings at the Auditorium were held under the direction of the Epworth league of the Twin cities. The largest one was at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

As on each of the other Sundays, the pulpits of the cities were quite generally filled by visiting delegates.

One of the questions exciting the most widespread interest is that of the future control of the deaconess work, which up to the present time has been carried on under three different forms, some deaconesses being under the control of the deaconesses' association, some under the Woman's Home Missionary society, and others under German control. It is understood the deaconess committee will recommend that the entire work be placed under one management and that there will be only one form of deaconess in the Methodist church.

The temperance committee, it is known, will indorse both the church temperance society and the Anti-Saloon league. A vicious attack on the league is being circulated in print making serious charges against the management of the league.

John Dale, a lay delegate from Omaha, referred to the charges in circulation and declared he would oppose the indorsement of the league until the charges were answered. The church temperance society, its leaders declare, are not mixed up in the fight which is being waged by members of the Prohibition party against the Anti-Saloon league.

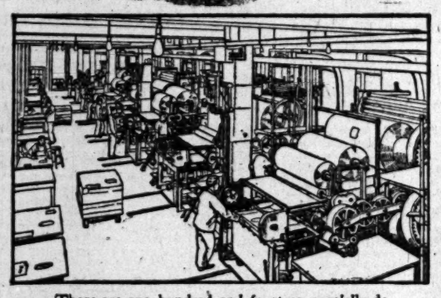

The committee on the itinerancy passed by a large vote the recommendation that there be no change in the time limit of pastors.

There are one hundred and fourteen specially designed presses, including high-speed color presses.

An endless belt carries away the mail pouches in which the magazines are packed—150 tons a day.

The Engraving Department, where every cut, advertising or pictorial, is brought to its highest efficiency.

In the Employees' Restaurant, where 600 dine at one time, are 17 original paintings by Maxfield Parrish.

1,950,000 families buy The Saturday Evening Post.

1,750,000 families buy The Ladies' Home Journal.

400,000 families take both.

They are paying more than $5,000,000 for these magazines this year, without receiving a single premium or discount of any kind; they pay this sum just to read them.

A capacity for the manufacture of 500,000 magazines a day is necessary to keep pace with the demand. Every 28 days we turn out of our press rooms more than 9,000,000 complete publications—more than 110,000,000 copies a year.

Every day more than 150 tons of paper are consumed in our Philadelphia plant. Last year 2,300 carloads of paper left Fitchburg, Mass., for The Ladies' Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post. A train over 17 miles in length would have been required for last year's shipments.

About 1,000 men are employed in the mills making the paper for the Curtis publications. Curiously, most of the material is secured in Europe. Old books, ledgers and the like are macerated, bleached and turned into the white satin-finished paper as you receive it.

The paper used in printing The Ladies' Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post during one year, if put in one strip the width of a page of these publications, would make a white band which would go more than thirty times around the earth.

800,000 pounds of ink were consumed last year. The tiny wire staples used in binding weighed 27,000 pounds last year.

THESE pictures show the work of an army created by the power of advertising. This is the achievement of twenty-eight years.

To you who are also a manufacturer, does it seem of only passing interest—

—That 3,500 people work night and day in this great building—

—That it requires seven mills and about 1,000 men to make the 100,000,000 pounds of paper used yearly—

—That 2,800 district managers direct a sales force of 31,000 men and boys in every ward of the cities and every lane of the country towns?

You recognize the impressiveness of these facts, but you ask—

What is All This to Me—a Manufacturer?

This: These thousands of people, these buildings, these machines, are catering to the wants of a nation. Their work is for 3,300,000 American families who buy The Ladies' Home Journal or The Saturday Evening Post—fine, intelligent, prosperous, American families, with the standards of living, the affluence and the desire for every conceivable kind of service and merchandise.

These facts challenge you.

Why should these millions not know you and buy of you? What a world of wants for you—the manufacturer—to reach and fill in this nation within the nation.

This nation of readers, the building here illustrated, this army of workers—all have been built by advertising. Not only by the advertising of other manufacturers who have told of their goods through our columns, but also by our own advertising of our own manufactured product. The Curtis Publishing Company is itself one of the leading users of advertising space.

We propose to you the enlargement of your production and your sales by the same methods which we have ourselves employed.

To continue to make good for ourselves we must continue to make good for others.

Of all the homes worth while in the whole country you can reach one in four through our publications.

We should like you to do two things: Send for our 40-page booklet on modern advertising: and when in Philadelphia, come and inspect this plant.

This enormous stock room, with 27,000 square feet of floor space, holds barely a month's supply of paper.

Suppose you were to pile one month's issue of The Ladies' Home Journal up in one single column—5 copies to the inch, 60 copies to the foot, 316,800 copies to the mile. The 1,750,000 copies would be more than 5½ miles high. More than 50 times the height of Washington's Monument.

413,000 pounds of wrapping paper and 100,000 pounds of rope are used each year in the shipping of The Ladies' Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post.

300 truck-loads of 7,200 pounds to the load are required to transport one edition of The Ladies' Home Journal to the mail trains, to the express and freight stations. For The Saturday Evening Post an additional 145 truck-loads are required each week.

The average edition of The Ladies' Home Journal weighs more than 2,000,000 pounds. Seventy-five railroad cars are required to move and distribute it.

540,000 mail sacks are used each year in the dispatching of The Ladies' Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post to all parts of the world.

More than 10,000,000 United States postage-stamps are used in a year, and in addition $400,000 a year is paid to the Government for carrying the publications mailed by us. This does not include the great sums required for transporting copies to the trade and to the wholesale news companies.

The Company receives over a million and three-quarters letters a year. A single day's mail has contained 22,300 letters, containing remittances amounting to $38,700.

This warehouse, in another part of the city, has a storage capacity of 6,000 tons of paper and 10,000 tons of coal.

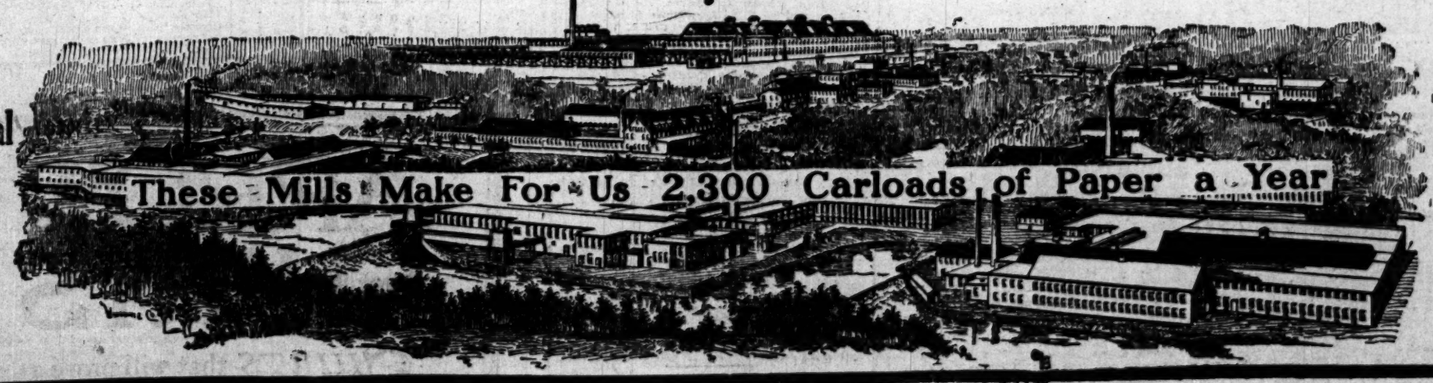

Ink—the smallest factor in printing—is consumed at the rate of 1½ tons a day.

The rest rooms are illustrative of the attention given to the comfort and health of employees.

CUBS DROP CLASH TO CASTOFF, 6 TO 2

Pitcher Ragon, Once a West Sider, Holds Former Mates to Four Hits.

INFANTS FAST ON SACKS.

Active Base Running and Timely Swats Give Brooklyn Winning Runs at Start.

BY SAM WELLER.

It might have been the return of the alleged Brooklyn hoodoo of last season that beat the Cubs at the west side yesterday afternoon, but it is more reasonable to think it was some splendid pitching by "Don Carlos" Pat Ragon, a Cub castoff. The score was 6 to 2, and the Ragon person held the hopeful west siders to four safe swats.

Heine Zimmerman didn't get one of the four, either, thus experiencing his second hitless game of the season. When Heine doesn't hit, the Cubs can't win. Sometimes they can't when he does hit. Along with their inability to bat with any degree of success the Cubs were guilty of some messy fielding that helped the Long Islanders to their total of six runs.

Charley Smith, the tall, rangy twirler of the Cubs, was sent to the slab at the start. He hadn't appeared since losing a tough luck contest to Boston when the veteran Otto Hess opposed him and held the Cubs to one hit. This time Smith wasn't up to his usual speed, and experienced a lot of trouble in the second inning, finally being removed. Jim Lavender replaced him and pitched some dandy ball, but the game was lost already. He gave his place at bat to a pinch hitter in the eighth and Jimmy Moroney hurled the last round for Chicago.

Infants Active on Bases.

Active base running and a few timely swats gave the visitors four runs in the first two innings. They stole three bases on Tom Needham in that short period, but Tom tightened his grip on the ball and shot four of them dead at second who attempted to steal on him during the remainder of the game.

Whether or not anybody ever knew that Ragon was a good pitcher before yesterday's contest could not be learned. His hurling this time was high class, anyway, for he had a lot of speed and splendid control. Only one man got a base on balls and most of the others were hitting the ball high in the air at times when a base hit would have done business. A few sparkling fielding plays by Ragon's mates helped him out on one or two occasions also, Daubert, Tooley, and Northen deserving special mention.

Something more than 10,000 Sunday fans were present to look at the combat and they shivered and shook through it all just as if they liked it. The high sign boards around the ball field kept out a lot of the wind or there might have been a few frozen to death.

A stolen base helped Brooklyn to its first run in the opening inning. Two were out when J. Smith drew a base on balls. He stole second and scored when Northen slammed a hit to right field. Schulte heaved home, but the ball arrived a bit too late, as well as a bit too wide. The Cubs had two on in the first, but one was nipped stealing and the other was left.

Visitors Score Three in Second.

In the second Brooklyn scraped in three runs, while the Cubs were messing things terribly. Hummel began with a drive to the right wall for two bases. Tooley bunted toward first base, and Hofman made a play for Hummel at third, but his throw went to the grand stand, letting Hummel come home and Tooley go to third. Phelps sacrificed and Ragon fanned, and the trouble seemed over, but it was not. Moran walked and stole second. Daubert got a fluky infield hit on a hot one that Evers snapped up close to second. Johnny shot it to first just a little too late, and also so wide that it got away from Hofman. Tooley and Moran both counted on the play. Daubert then stole second, and Charley Smith was taken out of the game, Lavender taking his place. J. Smith grounded to Heine Zim.

In their half of the same round the Cubs scored once. Hofman opened with a red hot single to center and it got through Northen and rolled to the club house, letting Artie race to third. Tinker promptly singled, bringing Hofman home, but Joe tried to take two bases when the ball was booted in right field, and was shot dead at second. The next two men died on ground balls.

There was no more firing on either side until the fifth, when the Cubs got their other run. With one dead Evers singled to center and Needham followed with a terrific drive to the fence on the left field foul line for two bases, scoring Evers on the gallop. Tom got to third on Lavender's out, but was left there when Sheckard closed the rally with a fly to Northen.

Add Two in Seventh.

Another fielding mistake opened the way for Brooklyn to get its other two runs in the seventh. Moran beat out a bunt for a starter, but was thrown out trying to steal second. Daubert then smashed one straight to Tinker, and Joe booted it clear out into center field. J. Smith followed with a single to left, and Daubert legged it all the way from first to third, Smith scooting to second on the throw. Lavender knocked down Northen's hot rap, but couldn't recover in time to throw to the plate. He got Northen at first, but Daubert scored. Wheat then singled to center and J. Smith came home. Hummel bunted, but was thrown out by Needham, ending the inning. Score:

SAM WELLERISM.

Brooklyn is the attraction again today. Also tomorrow and Wednesday.

It's good for one's eyes to watch Jake Daubert perform at first base. He looks better this year than ever.

Heine Zim fanned twice in his four times at bat. Once he popped to the third baseman and once he drove a long fly to Northen.

So far this season the Cubs have experienced great difficulty in climbing beyond the .500 mark in the percentage column. They stood even up before yesterday's contest.

Eddie Phelps, who is catching for Brooklyn is the same Eddie who helped Pittsburgh win pennants back in '02, '03, and '04. He stole a base and attempted to steal another, but Tom Needham nailed him.

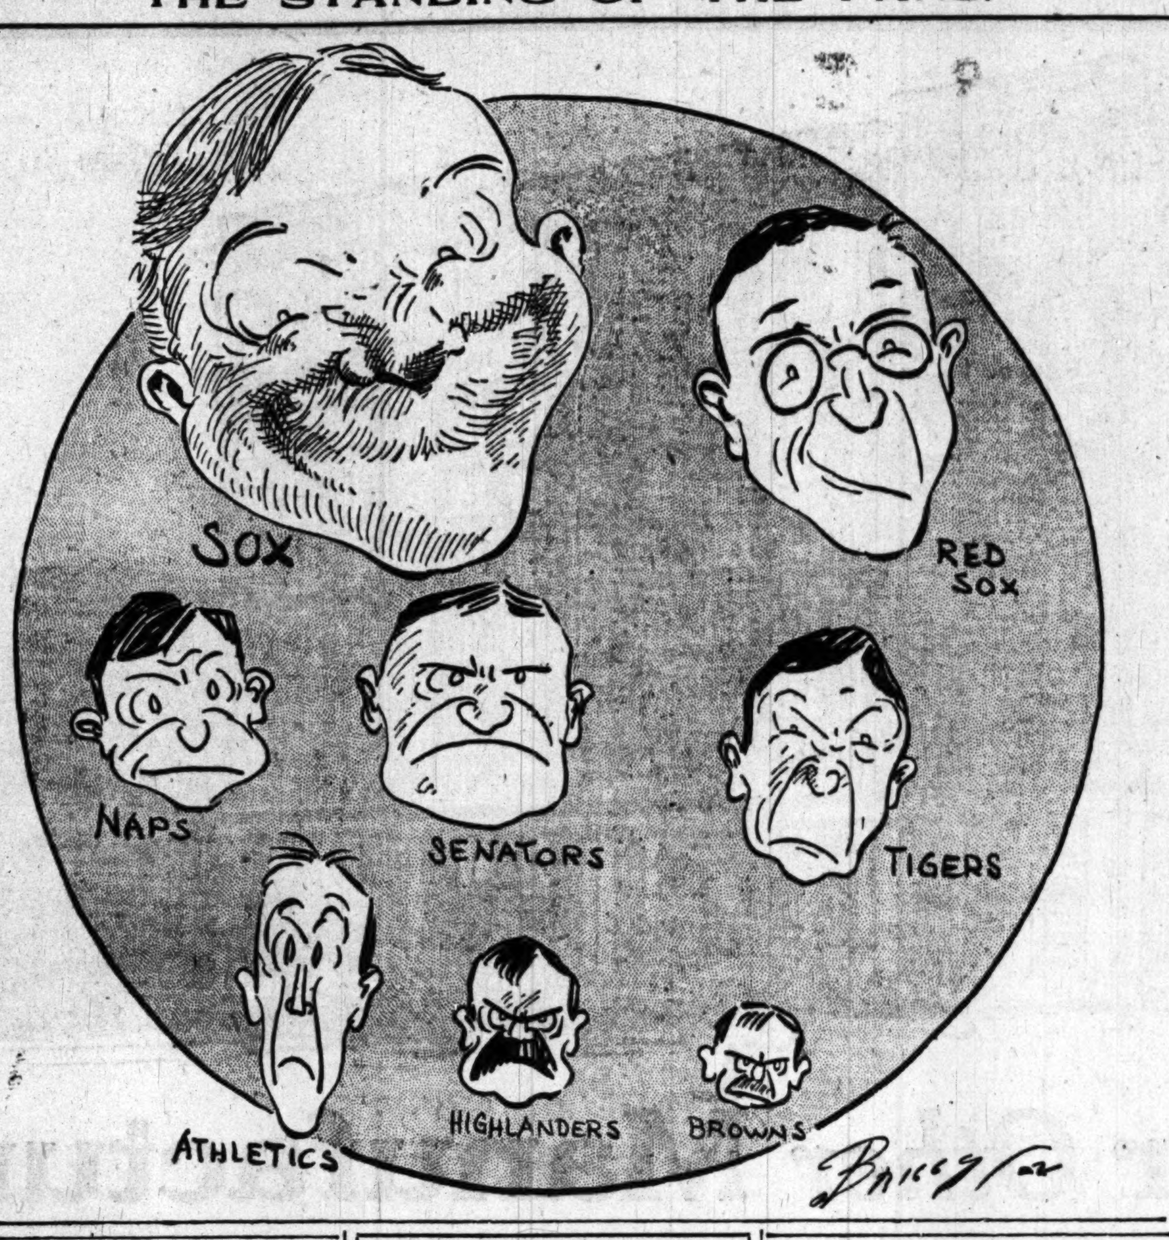

The Cubs were surprised to learn of the marriage of Fred Toney, who was lately shipped to Louisville. It was reported that he has jumped the Colonels, evidently preferring marriage to playing at Louisville.

President Murphy had a new sign posted in the grandstand, inviting the patrons to root all they desire, but to please refrain from insulting the players or umpires. The Cub boss doesn't want any strike here.

Man Drops Dead at Ball Park.

Cincinnati, O., May 19.—Frank H. Barnett, 35 years old, of Middletown, O., dropped dead at the gate to the baseball park immediately after the game yesterday between New York and Cincinnati. An examination showed that Barnett died of heart failure, accentuated by excitement over the contest. He was a past exalted ruler of the Elks.

SOX EYES ON PENNANT FLAG

Entertain Fond Hopes of Taking Title This Season.

ED WALSH MAY HURL TODAY

Mogridge Also in Line to Work; Players Are Opposed to Strike.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Boston, Mass., May 19.—[Special.]—Chicago's White Sox passed this New England day looking down on the rest of the world from a position at the top of the American league pennant ladder so secure that they cannot be dislodged before their return home. Once on their own lot, to remain there most of the month of June, the Callahans will defy all comers to upset them in their own yard.

Some of the younger members of the team, not accustomed to such eminence in the baseball world, took a trip to Bunker hill today, climbed the monument and passed several hours looking down on the surrounding scenery. They said they wanted to get over feeling dizzy when so high to avoid similar sensations along about July when the Sox expect themselves to be so far out in front that they will require a telescope to see the players on the team in second place.

Dream of Pennant Flag.

All joking aside, the White Sox are beginning to take themselves and their pennant chances seriously. They have not yet encountered a team that has been able to stop them. Consequently they feel that they have earned the right to be taken seriously.

The veteran members of the team do not overlook the fact that they are in for a long, gruelling race, and that Boston and Philadelphia are going to give them a terrific battle, but they believe they will be equal to the task of coping with all enemies, except of hard luck in the shape of more injuries.

Comiskey's men have been without their full plyaing strength for a considerable part of the season. At present they have Jim Scott, Jim Block, and Lee Tannehill on the hospital list, and no hope that any one of the three will be of help to the team in the near future.

Billy Sullivan has not entirely recovered from the injury to his collar bone, and Buck Weaver still wears his left hand in bandages from the spiking it received in the opening game of this trip at Washington. Neither Boston nor Philadelphia is in more crippled condition, all things considered, than the White Sox are right now, they claim, and they hope to have their own absentees in harness by the time the Red Sox and Athletics can present stronger opposition than now.

Walsh May Pitch Game.

Ed Walsh passed Sunday with his family at Meriden, Conn., and will return to Boston in his motor car in time to pitch the final game of the series here, unless he has tire trouble or loses his clutch on the way. Walsh may not be asked to pitch, as Mogridge is in line to work against the Bostonians tomorrow.

The White Sox who remained in town passed the day sightseeing or looking at pictures on the faces of cards.

If any representative of the White Sox attended the secret meeting of players in Philadelphia, said to be scheduled for today, he slipped away unobserved. The sentiment of the majority of the players is opposed to the drastic action of the Detroit players in going on strike in support of Ty Cobb, and the belief is expressed in some quarters that the strike did not originate with the Detroit players themselves, but that they were inspired to it under promise of protection from loss or punishment on account of their defiance of the league executive.

The White Sox will finish their series here with tomorrow's game, and then jump to New York for three battles with the Yankees on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Friday is an open date, to permit the western teams to jump west and on Saturday the White Sox are booked to play Detroit's rebels in Chicago.

BLOCK FACES LONG IDLENESS.

White Sox Catcher Expected to Be Out of Games for Two or Three Months.

Catcher Jimmy Block of the White Sox will be out of the game from two to three months. Dr. James H. Blair, White Sox physician, on X-ray examination, found a comminuted fracture of the second joint on the first finger of the right hand. Even after the fracture mends there is a probability that a slight stiffness may result. The hand has been placed in a plaster of paris cast. Block is downhearted, for he hoped to lead the league in batting this year. His present average is .360.

"COMMY" WON'T LET 'EM GO.

White Sox Magnate Secures Option on Entire Membership of Anderson, S. C., Club.

Anderson, S. C., May 19.—President Charles Comiskey of the Chicago Americans has secured an option for $25,000 on the entire membership of the Anderson club in the Carolina association. The action is said to have resulted from the extraordinary hitting and fielding records of members of the club. It is stated that a trade will be made within the next ten days.

BASEBALL STRIKE REACHES CRISIS

Special Meeting of League Called for Today to Handle Acute Situation.

BAN JOHNSON ON SCENE.

Representatives of Players Also Arrive in Philadelphia for Conference.

BULLETIN.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—There will be no baseball game at the American league grounds in this city tomorrow. President Johnson has forbidden the Detroit club playing again until the regular lineup is placed on the field.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 19.—[Special.]—The baseball situation in the American league has become acute. A special meeting of the league has been called for this city tomorrow, and from all appearances the club owners will resort to drastic measures against the players of the Detroit team in an effort to compel them to live up to the rules of the league.

President B. B. Johnson arrived this afternoon and went into conference with President Shibe, Manager Mack and Manager Jennings while awaiting the arrival of President Navin of Detroit.

While the league officials were busy, the players also were in conference. George Stovall of the St. Louis club, Harry Lord of Chicago, and Field Captain Olsen of the Cleveland team were here as representatives to look after the interests of the new players' organization which they have been asked to form. The other American league teams are in sympathy with the movement, but they want to see what Johnson does before they show their hand.

The Detroit players stand pat tonight and are more firm than ever in their determination not to play unless Cobb is immediately reinstated.

From the indications at this hour it is more than likely that the American league will make an example of the rebels. The magnates have decided that something must be done to preserve the dignity of the organization, and that is the reason for calling the special meeting. If such action is taken it remains to be seen whether the players of the other teams will stand by the Detroit men or they will bow before the will of Johnson in this matter.

PACKEY MAY FIGHT WOLGAST

Managers at Meeting Here Agree to Match Boxers.

NOW UP TO NEW YORK CLUBS

Wires Sent to Gotham Asking Best Terms for Scrap on June 5.

BY KNOCKOUT.

"World's Champion Ad Wolgast vs. Packey McFarland, ten rounds, New York, June 5."

Doesn't that look like some attraction? It's up to the Gotham promoters now to come across with the "stuff," otherwise to make good on what may or may not be termed bluff offers for the fight. That's all, and then up will go the posters.

Tom Jones, manager for Wolgast, and Emil Thiry, McFarland's manager, held a long conference yesterday, and when they parted company they were as near a match as anybody could be, leaving the promotion proposition out of consideration. Even the weight question, which has been a huge obstacle to the framing of other matches between the two star lightweights, was passed without serious trouble.

So smoothly did the wheels of negotiation turn that just before the close of their confab Jones and Thiry dictated telegrams and wired them to Billy Gibson, promoter of the Fairmont club of New York; Tom O'Rourke of the Madison Square Garden, and Tim Hurst, also of the Garden club, stating that Wolgast and McFarland were agreeable to battle, and asking the promoters to wire immediately the best terms for a fight on June 5.

Manager Jones said last night that it was up to the promoters to show whether or not the reported offers were bona fide. Jones had in mind the story that was sent out from New York a few days ago that Tim Hurst had offered Wolgast $15,000 for his end for a bout with Packey. The manager hadn't received such a bid from the promoter, but expects an answer to his telegrams today to decide the question. "If they make me that offer, and I see they can go through with it, I'll sign the articles in a minute," said Jones.

Both Jones and Thiry would prefer to fight before Gibson's club, and if they secure the match they will try to have Gibson stage it in Sulzer's garden, which will accommodate more persons than any other New York arena. Sulzer's garden is controlled by Promoter Gil Boag, but it is figured Boag would consent to Gibson's entrance at least for this fight.

Champion Wolgast left late Saturday night for his farm at Cadillac, Mich., where he will remain for a few days' rest. Manager Jones will go there on Wednesday, as he intends to remain here until the plans for the New York fight are settled definitely. Jones is anxious for Wolgast to have two short fights before his encounter with Joe Rivers on the coast on July 4.

Packey McFarland is expected home from New York today. He was to have met Joe Bedell at Brooklyn Wednesday night, but called it off when the club discovered it would have to substitute "Young" Ahearn for Bedell, who developed a case of sickness. Packey will rest here for a few days, then start training for his bout with Ray Bronson, scheduled for Indianapolis on May 29.

COMPACT ARENA FOR FIGHT.

Representative of Firm to Construct Ring for Johnson-Flynn Bout Gives Out Plans.

East Las Vegas, N. M., May 19.—[Special.]—The Flynn-Johnson arena, which will have a seating capacity of 17,000, will be wonderfully compact, as was demonstrated today when Walter L. Wilson, representative of the Kansas City firm that made the successful bid, reached Las Vegas. Below are some pertinent facts: Seating capacity, 17,000; size of arena, 180 square feet; arrangements of sections: Two rows of press tables, private boxes, ringside seats, arena seats, and grand stand. The prices are to range from $10 to $50. Work on the arena will be started June 4, and the structure will be completed by June 15. Jack Curley will go searching for suitable quarters for Johnson tomorrow.

JACK HERRICK IN LONG DRAW.

Chicagoan and "Kid" Mitchell Divide Honors in Twenty Round Bout in Juarez Bull Ring.

El Paso, Tex., May 19.—The first boxing contest ever held in a Mexican ring and the first big decision battle held anywhere near El Paso in years was staged this afternoon in the Ciudad Juarez bull ring. "Kid" Mitchell, the El Paso middleweight, and Jack Herrick of Chicago went twenty rounds to a draw.

Hultgren Takes Cycle Race.

Herman Hultgren finished first in the 100 mile bicycle race to Waukegan and return yesterday as a tryout for places on the American team that will compete in the Olympic 200 mile race at Stockholm on July 7. Ernest Kockler was second. These men will compete in the final trial to be held at Newark, N. J., on Saturday, at the distance a little over ninety miles. Hultgren made the fifty miles to Waukegan against a head wind in 2:46:00 and came back in 2:37:00, making his time 5:23:00. Kockler took three minutes more.

Horine Sets World's Mark.

Palo Alto, Cal., May 19.—George Horine of the Olympic club of San Francisco, yesterday, in the Olympic trials, made a new mark of 6 feet 7 inches in the running high jump, seven-eighths of an inch better than his own world's record.

PULLMAN SCORES SOCCER TRIUMPH

Outplays and Defeats Hibernians in Peel Cup Final, 6 Goals to 1.

HOLDS TROPHY FOR YEAR

Winning Margin Largest in History of Competition—Good Combination Shown.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Outplaying their opponents nearly all the way, the Pullmans defeated the Hibernians in the final of the fourth annual competition for the Peel soccer trophy, winning 6 goals to 1, at Fifty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue yesterday.

It was the biggest winning margin for a final in the history of the cup, and as conditions for play could hardly have been bettered the superiority of the carbuilders was fully demonstrated.

The winning team gets possession of the trophy for a year and the players receive medals. In addition there is a chance that Pullman may meet the West Hudsons of Newark, N. J., winners of the eastern cup, for the championship of the United States. Negotiations for this match are in progress.

Pullman won because of its better combination and because the wing men got the ball across better than those of the Hibernians. The carbuilders counted four goals in the first half. Three of these came before Frank O'Brien of the Hibernians was hit in the ribs and had to retire for the last ten minutes of the half. In the second half Pullman scored two more goals and in the last three minutes of play Tom Kelly scored for the Hibernians. Lineup:

Pullman [6].		Hibernians [1].

SUTTON LOSES BILLIARD TITLE.

Chicagoan Takes Slump After Gaining Big Lead, Dropping Match to Morningstar, 500-463.

Apparently outclassed in the earlier stages, Ora C. Morningstar of Pittsburgh overcame a deficit of 163 points and defeated George Sutton of Chicago, 500 to 463, in their match at Orchestra hall for the 18-1 balk line championship of the world. It was a long drawn out contest, which did not finish until nearly 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The new champion averaged 8 4-62, with high run of 56. Sutton notching 7 36-61, with high run of 64.

The play of both experts fell below expectations, as both had gone much faster in their preparatory work, Sutton especially having played fine billiards. Morningstar, who has held the 18-2 championship once, never had played an individual match for the one shot in title. His victory netted him the Brunswick-Balke emblem, the purse of $1,000, and the whole of the gate receipts. These latter did not amount to much, as the crowd was only of fair proportions. Score:

HURLING GAME TO SHAMROCKS.

Defeat Brian Borus, 10 to 8, in Feature Contest at Gaelic Park—Football to Rangers.

In the feature contest at Gaelic park the Shamrocks defeated the Brian Borus, 10 to 8, at hurling. The game was closely fought, the score at half time resulting in a tie, 5 to 5. Near the finish of the second period Shamrocks forged to the front. The Rangers, former champions, took the football contest, 7 to 2. In the first half the result was close, but in the next period the losers weakened under the determined rushes of the Ranger forwards and gave way, the victors scoring four of their goals.

Work on Hawthorne Track Today.

Work of converting the Hawthorne racetrack into a motordrome for the auto races on June 8 and 9 will begin this morning, when the changing of the track surface will be started. The plan used in building the California race roads will be followed, thousands of gallons of 80 per cent asphalt petroleum being used. This is worked into the surface for a depth of four inches and then harrowed and packed to racing consistency.

Your Memo Pad

YOU may have noticed how the discriminating men are favoring "homespuns"—the natural hand woven woolens. They've an interesting history. The Peasantry of the Highlands and islands of Scotland and Ireland make the suitings on small foot looms. Every piece is woven individually from pure home dyed yarns—that accounts for the distinctiveness of homespun suits. They're especially fine in the golf styles. $25, $30, & $35.

THE correct combination includes the English Twill Rumchunda scarf, 50c; the English flat last shoe, $4 and $5; and the homespun golf cap or hat, $1.50 and $2.00.

WHEAT SHAKEOUT BREAKS FUTURES

Heavy Liquidation and Declining Markets Follow Free Realizing by Bulls.

COARSE GRAINS DECLINE.

Forced Selling Chief Feature in All Cereals; Hog Products Are Irregular.

Liquidation of long wheat was the big feature of the grain trade the last week. The week started with heavy selling, credited largely to the bull leaders, who sold enough to supply the demand from pyramiders and eleventh hour bulls. With more favorable crop reports outside buying orders were much less in evidence, and with support withdrawn the market became decidedly weak.

Each succeeding break brought out stop loss selling, and late in the week the bulls were in full retreat. However, late on Friday and Saturday there was better buying, commission houses who sold out on the bulge buying back some of their wheat, while the liquidation appeared to have run its course for the time being at least. Corn and oats also suffered from the selling by longs, who were unable to withstand the pressure of short selling.

Prices Are Readjusted.

In wheat the price losses were regarded in some quarters as wiping out the inflation in values caused by too enthusiastic buying, and there was a disposition to believe that the market was on a two sided basis at the end of the week. The tremendous losses in the soft wheat states will be to some extent offset by the fine crops in the hard winter territory and in the spring wheat country, provided no accidents befall the latter crops.

Indications now point to practically a normal acreage in the spring wheat states with the exception of North Dakota, where a decrease in area of 5 to 10 per cent is looked for. In Montana there will be an increased acreage which will tend to counteract the decrease in North Dakota. Seeding is now practically completed. Conditions are favorable for the crops in all the winter and spring wheat states. Moisture has been abundant, and with favorable conditions during the remainder of the growing season a yield of fully average proportions is looked for. In Canada the area of spring wheat will be much larger than last year in Saskatchewan and Alberta, but probably a little smaller in Manitoba.

Mills Continue to Buy.

That prices, especially for red winter wheat, are not too high is indicated by the continued good demand from mills. Even during the slump in futures there were substantial sales made to mills each day, and liberal reductions are predicted in local stocks each week between now and the end of the crop year. Practically the only available stock of No. 2 red winter wheat is now held at Chicago, presumably the most of it being owned by the bull leaders. This puts them in a strong position, and should it develop, as now seems probable, that July will be an old crop month, the situation in that month is likely to be strong. Prospects now are for the lightest carry over this year than in many seasons.

Conditions have been right throughout the year to cause unusually heavy marketing from the farms, and unless all the crop figures were way out of line the stocks in all positions July 1 will be even smaller than in the Patten year.

Flour Stocks Are Small.

Flour stocks are understood to be small, especially in jobbers' hands, and with buyers more willing to take hold mills are likely to continue busy from now. Consequently there should be a continued brisk milling demand for wheat. With stocks at Minneapolis decreasing at the rate of 1,000,000 bu a week or more, the liberal supplies at that point are no longer a bear factor, while the local stock has long since ceased being a bugbear to frighten buyers.

Cash men are inclined to look for as active buying of both cash wheat and flour as developed in the first half of the year following the Patten deal. This buying would doubtless be even more pronounced should there be any unfavorable developments in the spring wheat crop.

Foreign markets have continued steady, with no startling features. World's shipments are running a little smaller, Canada and South America furnishing the bulk of the offerings. The supplies from both these countries are largely of poor quality, which is causing much disappointment abroad.

May Corn Shortage Big.

May corn shorts were given a little respite during the week, prices breaking sharply, but as soon as there was any attempt to cover there was a brisk recovery. Bulls were credited with buying more May corn on the break than the shorts, so that the position of the latter is not much changed. The preponderance of poor corn in the receipts during the week caused a bad break in prices of low grade stuff in the sample market, but good corn was relatively scarce and held firm. Moreover, receipts have become lighter, with no indications for a material increase during the remaining days of May. On the other hand, shipments have been liberal, and there is only a moderate amount of corn available for delivery on May contracts. As the short interest in May is estimated at around 5,000,000 bu, the position of the shorts does not look particularly hopeful.

The season is two to three weeks late, and in many sections of the corn belt the ground has not been plowed yet. While there is still time to plant a full acreage of corn, it means that conditions must be more than ordinarily favorable the latter part of the season to insure a good yield. The shipping demand has been fairly good from the east, but in the southwestern markets the trade has become inactive.

Weather Favorable for Oats.

Oats were affected by the favorable weather for the crop, liberal receipts, the slump in other grains, and the prospects for a heavy yield with normal conditions. A brisk cash demand developed late in the week, but not until after prices had suffered a severe setback. Sales the last two or three days for shipment were the largest in some time.

In provisions there was an irregular market, with prices breaking sharply at times but meeting with a good demand on all the soft spots. Packers, who own the bulk of the cash product, were given credit for supporting the market when it needed help. Shorts were aggressive sellers at times. Hog receipts were liberal, and at western points were slightly larger for the week than a year ago.

BEARS MAKE RAID ON STOCK MARKET

Take Advantage of Situation When Organization Withdraws Support.

BULLS OUT FROM UNDER.

Distribute Holdings on New York Exchange at High Price Levels Before Change.

New York, May 19.—The action of the market for stocks last week made it evident that control had been relaxed by the organization which has stood in support of the stability of prices during the recent speculative campaign.

The always watchful professional trading element, through its constant testing operations, demonstrated that protective measures had been withdrawn from the market, leaving it vulnerable to bear attack and to the effect of attempted profit taking.

Current supposition in the stock market was that a distribution of holdings at the higher price levels had preceded this campaign in the conduct of the market leadership and had supplied the principal motive for that change.

Steel Trade Improves.

Reports from the steel trade strengthened the conviction of expansion and improvement. Demands from manufacturers for longer periods for delivery and premiums for earlier deliveries of crude steel were considered promising symptoms.

The material fortnightly reduction in the European visible supply of copper, with reports of large buying by the principal domestic consumers, gave an upward impetus to the price of that metal, the highest on the present move. Parallel advances in silver and white lead spread these influences all through the metal industry.

The April 18 returns of the national banks to the controller of the currency indicate a large transfer of reserves away from the central reserve centers in the two months' interval since the last call, and a corresponding loan expansion in the same direction.

Revival in Commerce.

Such a movement is indicative of commercial expansion and revival. Hardening of the New York money market in the same period is also thus explained.

New York's command of foreign banking credits was correspondingly affected by comparison. Sluggishness in the bond market may be traceable partly to this showing.

BUTTER DROPS DURING WEEK; FOLLOWS DECLINE IN EAST.

Prices 2 Cents Lower—Eggs and Potatoes Off—Cheese Scarce—Michigan Berry Crop Looms Large.

Influenced by a big decline in prices at New York, the butter market at Chicago last week developed a depressed and congested condition, and values suffered a break of 2@2½c a pound. Eggs were sustained on a stationary basis, but closed with a clearly defined downward tendency under pressure of a liberal increase in arrivals. Potato receipts also showed a substantial gain and prices declined 5c a bushel.

Some inconvenience was experienced because of the freight handlers' strike, which caused delays in the delivery of commodities received, and interfered to some extent with the outward movement of supplies. The more perishable goods received were given first attention and placed on the market without much delay, but hardier stock, in many instances, was greatly retarded. This applied particularly to cheese, some consignments of which were not delivered until five or six days after having been received.

Jobbers in cheese were compelled to let many orders calling for supplies accumulate, and the scarcity of certain shapes which resulted from the tardy deliveries caused many irregularities in prices. At the close values were quoted ¼c higher to 1c lower, with all grades of American cheese selling at much higher prices than would have been recorded if the movement had not been restricted by the crippled handling facilities of the railroads.

Strawberry receipts made a large aggregate for the week, averaging around forty to fifty cars a day. Weather was a little too cold for free consumption and prices declined $1.00 to $1.50 a case. Late supplies came chiefly from Tennessee, but Illinois was beginning to ship freely.

Advices from Michigan indicate that a bumper crop of strawberries will be harvested there this year if weather conditions are favorable from now on. The plants are said to be in bloom and prospects are for an exceptionally abundant and early yield. These berries are expected to follow the Illinois and Indiana shipments more closely than in former years, and there is a probability that the three states will be forwarding heavy consignments all at the same time. This should make the supply an exceptionally liberal one when the season is at its height, and it is expected that canners and housewives will have an opportunity to get preserving berries at unusually low figures.

*After allowing full 7 per cent dividends on the $3,998,700 outstanding preferred stock [$279,909], the balance, $2,164,184, is equal to 5.89 per cent on the $36,700,287 common. This compares with 12.34 per cent earned on $36,694,557 common stock in the previous year.

†Factory costs, selling administration, and general expenses.

The gross earnings, net manufacturing profits, other income, and surplus for the last seven years ended March 31, adjusted to the basis of the foregoing income statement, show as follows, 000 omitted:

	Gross earnings.	Net mfg. profit.	Other income.	Surplus for year.
1912	$34,196	$3,591	$1,160	$2,444

1906	24,081	2,601	959	2,020

*Deficit.

Chairman of the board, Guy E. Tripp, says the decrease in earnings is due partly to an actual reduction of output, but to a greater extent to the lower prices obtained.

During the month of April the value of the orders booked exceeded that of any month during the year ended March 31, 1912, so that the value of unfilled orders as of April 30, 1912, was $9,216,208.
